Weapons Outfit To Be Housed in Baker Building

Army Reserve Unit Leases New Quarters

By this time next week, Company H of the Army Reserve probably will be well established in its new quarters on the CCC Highway immediately west of Washington C. H.

First Lt. David Deppner, company commander, today confirmed a report that the big cement block building and about four acres of land has been leased by the government from G. Damon Baker for the relatively young heavy weapons outfit.

The building formerly was occupied by the Don Scholl Farm Implement Co. Baker acquired the property after Scholl sold out his business here and moved to Michigan.

THE BUILDING, 100 feet wide and 75 feet deep, contains approximately 10,000 square feet of floor space, 5,000 on the ground level and 5,000 in the full basement. Both levels are accessible to vehicles by ramps, the one to the ground floor on a slight incline and the one to the basement on a slight down grade.

The tract fronts 130 feet on the CCC Highway and extends back to the parallel Pennsylvania and B&O railroad tracks.

Lt. Deppner said the building has been remodeled to meet the needs of the Army Reserve unit and that equipment will be moved this weekend from the company's first headquarters in the American Legion Hall on N. Fayette St.

First to be moved will be the office equipment and records. After this will come the company's few weapons, 75 mm recoilless rifles and 30 and 50 caliber machine guns, Lt. Deppner said.

AMONG the advantages of the new headquarters for the growing

Army Reserve outfit, Lt. Deppner said, are the office and classrooms space in the basement (in which an indoor pistol and rifle range 81 feet long is to be set up) the accessibility of both floors to vehicles, and the area between the building and the railroads for drilling.

Vehicles expected to arrive soon are a 1/4-ton Jeep, 3/4-ton weapons carrier and a 2 1/2-ton troop carrier. Lt. Deppner said additional vehicles will be provided for the company as it grows.

At present Company H is made up of three officers and 27 enlisted men. The officers are Lt. Deppner, 352 W. Court St., manager of the Dill Grain Co. at Millersburg, Second Lt. John Spino and Second Lt. John Penn, both of Columbus.

Highland County Has 3rd Traffic Death in 3 Days

HILLSBORO — Frank M. Tumbleson, 80, of near here was injured fatally in an automobile-truck collision at the intersection of Routes 62 and 321, 12 miles south of here Wednesday.

Police said Tumbleson drove his passenger car through a stop sign and it was in collision with a truck driven by Edward Quarles, 36, of Pontiac, Mich. Quarles was not hurt.

Tumbleson's death was Highland County's third traffic death in as many days.

Ike Tells Russia America To Talk Arms Cuts in U. N.

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has told the Russians the United States will make "further proposals" on disarmament at the United Nations. But he has rejected, for the present at least, a Soviet proposal for five-power talks on the problem.

The White House Wednesday night made public Eisenhower's reply to a Nov. 17 message from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin. In that message, Bulganin had suggested that leaders of the United States, Russia, Britain, France and India sit down together to seek ways to bring about disarmament.

Britain and France reportedly have sent Moscow similar rejections.

In his reply, Eisenhower welcomed Bulganin's "apparent willingness" to consider even a limited form of the aerial inspection which this country has been urging since Eisenhower first proposed it at the 1955 Geneva Summit conference. Previously, the Russians had opposed any such plan.

But Eisenhower shot back at what he referred to as the Soviet "attempt to disguise as a 'slandering campaign' the world's indignant reaction to Soviet armed actions against the people of Hungary."

ON BOTH the disarmament and Hungarian matters, Eisenhower challenged the Russians to work through the United Nations.

Stephen Leath Holds Lead in 'Stork Derby'

Little 6 pound, 15 ounce Stephen Kenneth Leath today appears to be the most likely prospect to be acclaimed the first baby of 1957 born to Fayette County parents.

He was born at 1:08 a. m. Thursday in Memorial Hospital here, two days after the advent of the New Year. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Leath, 1023 S. Main St. The father is an employee of the Armo Drainage and Metal Products, Inc., plant here.

Little Stephen Kenneth was one of five babies, including a set of twins, born at the hospital Wednesday afternoon and early Thursday. But parents of none of the other four live in Fayette County.

One other was born Tuesday, just after midnight, but his parents live in Pickaway County.

ALSO BORN at the hospital here

since Tuesday were:

A 6 pound, 6 ounce daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Ora Woods of near Sabina in Clinton County at 2:31 p. m. Wednesday;

Michael Rodney Knapp, 7 pound, 4 ounce son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knapp of Wilmington at 5:45 a. m. Thursday;

Twin daughters born to Mr. and Mrs. William Voss of Williamsport, Pickaway County, at 7:30 and 7:38 a. m. Thursday. Their weights were not immediately available and they have not yet been named.

Although Stephen Kenneth Leath is now out in front in the annual "stork derby", the final decision on the winner will not be made until midnight, Jan. 8. Birth certificates, which must be filed with the Health Department, will be the basis for the decision.

Fifteen Washington C. H. merchants will present an assortment of gifts to the new Mr. or Miss Fayette County of 1957 and the parents.

Estranged Pair Kisses, Makes Up Right in Court

DETROIT — Katherine and Louis Wnuczek kissed and made up right in district court.

Katherine, 56, and Louis, 60, have been married 21 years.

Louis filed for divorce last April.

"No, not particularly."

The judge turned to Louis, who said:

"Well, if she'll quit saying I'm no good I'll call off the divorce."

Ike Planning Personal Plea For New Power

Stand by Authority To Use Military in Mid-East Is Sought

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower will make a personal plea to Congress, probably Friday, for standby authority to use U. S. military forces in the Middle East in the event of Russian aggression.

Secretary of State Dulles told congressional leaders Wednesday the situation in that area "is highly dangerous" and the "Soviet Union may well move to expand its own influence" there.

Whether Eisenhower's address to a joint session will come Friday, or early next week, depends on how quickly Senate and House can get organized and extend him a formal invitation.

The resolution Eisenhower seeks as outlined in tentative form by Dulles, would:

1. Authorize the President to "undertake programs of military and economic cooperation with free nations in the general area of the Middle East in order to strengthen and defend the independence of those nations."

2. AUTHORIZE the spending of $400 million in economic aid to the Middle East over a period of two years beginning July 1.

Those terms of the resolution, still in tentative form, were described in a statement released by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee with Dulles' approval after Dulles met with its members and Senate leaders for more than two hours in a closed-door night session.

"The secretary viewed the resolution as a deterrent to aggression and as a positive action on behalf of peace," the statement said. "Without the resolution, he thought the danger of war would be increased."

Earlier, Dulles spent more than an hour with a similar group from the House.

Afterward, Rep. Gordon (D-Ill.), chairman-designate of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said, "We've got to do all we can to go along with the administration's policy on this."

Hearings will be started next week, he said.

31 in School Bus Hurt Near Lima in Rail Crossing Crash

LIMA — Thirty school children and their Bath Township school bus driver were injured today when a Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad switch engine collided with the bus at a nearby crossing. Four of the children were hospitalized.

Police said the engine carried the bus 100 feet down the track and shoved it into a parked box car.

Hospitalized were Charlotte Smith, 16, her sisters, Dianne, 13, and Elizabeth, 14, and Judy DeLong, 10, all of Lima. Charlotte Smith had a fractured arm and the others possible internal injuries, hospital authorities reported.

Police said the bus driver, Oliver Hager, 47, of Lafayette, told them he stopped at the crossing but didn't hear or see the train before starting across.

The other injured children, ranging in age from six to sixteen, were treated and released at local hospitals.

85th Congress in Action; Civil Rights Battle Looms

WASHINGTON — The 85th Congress rolled into action today with high priority marked for President Eisenhower's proposal to post a "hands off" sign against Communists in the Middle East.

And a battle over Senate rules, tied in with civil rights, was in the offing though the showdown appeared likely to be postponed.

The Senate and House began months-long sessions in an air of expectancy over Eisenhower's possible personal appearance before the lawmakers Friday to ask for standby authority to use American troops to combat any Communist military aggression in the Middle East.

There was outspoken opposition to this proposal by some Democrats, among them Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee, the party's 1956 vice-presidential nominee. But there was general agreement that after some debate critical of administration policies Eisenhower will get about what he wants.

Northern and Western senators of both parties who want action in the new Congress on civil rights legislation were prepared to propose that the Senate adopt new rules.

Their target was a rule requiring 64 affirmative votes to end debate. By making it difficult to halt filibusters, the rule has permitted a Southern minority to avoid votes on civil rights legislation.

Civil rights advocates generally conceded defeat in advance of any showdown. They said they were willing to postpone any vote on the issue until next week to clear the way for routine organization.

Familiar Faces On Hand To Greet Lausche

WASHINGTON — Familiar faces surrounded Frank Lausche of Ohio as he made his transition today from governor to senator.

Five of his top aides from Columbus have joined his senatorial staff.

Ray M. White, Lausche's secretary become the new senator's administrative assistant.

White, a weekly newspaper publisher and editor in Millersburg, Ohio, for 25 years, is a former member of the Ohio Legislature.

Joseph Scanlon of Cincinnati has also joined Lausche's staff here. He formerly was the governor's executive secretary and then became administrator of Ohio's Bureau of Workmen's Compensation.

Miss Marie A. King of Washington C. H., is the senator's office manager and Miss Celie M. Jirsa is his personal secretary. They held these same positions at the state capital.

Stanley Andrews, another Lausche aide from Columbus, will be his research assistant here.

Mrs. Lausche arrived in Washington Sunday night. The Lausches have leased a large apartment in a new building on fashionable Massachusetts Avenue.

The only other new member of Congress from Ohio is David S. Dennis Jr. of Warren, who succeeds Oliver P. Bolton as representative from the 11th District. Both Dennis and Bolton are Republicans so Ohioans in the House line up politically the same as in the last Congress—17 Republicans and 6 Democrats.

1956 Traffic Death Toll Is Record

1955, credit generally is given to rigid enforcement of safety measures. In states where traffic deaths increased, similar crack-downs generally are planned.

A state-by-state survey by the Associated Press shows that these measures, already in effect in some states and planned in others, include:

1. Increasing the number of police patrols on highways. This has top priority in most states.

linquished by Sen. George (D-Ga.), who is leaving the Senate.

House Republicans voted late Wednesday to retain Rep. Martin of Massachusetts as their leader and picked Rep. Hoeven of Iowa to succeed retiring Rep. Hope of Kansas as chairman of their party conference.

With its routine out of the way, Congress could turn its attention first to Eisenhower's "loop authority" proposal and then later to a series of legislative recommendations which will lay down in a Jan. 10 State of the Union message.

With Congress closely divided between the parties, Eisenhower apparently was moving to enlist as much Democratic support for his proposals as possible.

His agreement to submit the proposed Middle East resolution to top members of both houses for suggestions on its final form was interpreted as only the first step in this campaign. Secretary of State Dulles carried the proposal to Capitol Hill for discussion with the congressional leaders.

While he could expect a large measure of Democratic cooperation on international problems, it was evident Eisenhower will face difficulties on many of his domestic recommendations.

Southern Democrats were lining up to fight his civil rights proposals.

The President's expected request for $4.7 billion foreign aid funds already was under fire.

An expected $38 1/2 billion defense budget was criticized by some Democrats as too small.

GOP Pressing New Farm Plan

WASHINGTON — Farm belt Republicans in Congress will back new farm legislation calling for a price floor for corn, although Secretary of Agriculture Benson would prefer otherwise.

This was learned from members of a 14-member GOP delegation of senators and representatives who discussed farm legislation with Benson at his office Wednesday.

Benson has been called before the House agriculture committee next Monday to outline Eisenhower administration recommendations for possible changes in the farm law.

At the Agriculture Department meeting Wednesday, Benson and the Republican legislators—members of the Senate and House agriculture committees—agreed there is a need for a new corn program to stabilize production, supplies and prices.

The present program, based on legislation enacted in 1938, has been largely ineffective because it has called for larger voluntary acreage cutbacks than farmers have been willing to accept.

THE RESULT, Benson said, has been excessive corn production, low prices, undue stimulation of livestock production and probably inadequate participation in the new soil bank program offering subsidies for taking land out of production of surplus crops.

Benson and the Republican congressmen agreed Congress should authorize a new corn program patterned after one farmers rejected at a recent referendum. This plan was approved by 61.2 per cent of the growers voting. But the majority was short of the necessary two-thirds.

The GOP congressmen said they wanted one change in this plan—elimination of a provision which would have allowed the secretary to get supports for corn between zero and 90 per cent of parity instead of the present range of 75 to 90 per cent.

The survey came on the heels of the Christmas and New Year weekends when 1,115 persons were killed in the combined holiday periods—a new high.

Ohio Chief's Elevation First In 50 Years

Lieutenant Governor To Serve in High Post Only for Next 11 Days

COLUMBUS — Republican Lt. Gov. John W. Brown at noon today took over the duties of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who resigned 11 days before his fifth term expired to become a U. S. senator.

Brown was sworn in by Robert Barton of Columbus, a member of U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker's law firm.

The ceremony beneath a picture of the late President William McKinley was witnessed by a crowd that filled the governor's reception room in the northwest corner of the statehouse.

Brown's wife, Violet, and daughter, Rosalie, wife of Air Force Capt. Grant N. Angelus, stood beside the interim governor.

Relatives, state officials and members of Lausche's cabinet were among those crowding about the rostrum set up for the ceremony.

Witnesses included Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill who will be inaugurated as governor on Jan. 14.

"Needless to say," Brown observed afterward, "this is the happiest moment of my life."

BROWN SAID he never expected to become governor after his defeat by O'Neill for the nomination in the Republican primary election last May.

After accepting congratulations from wellwishers, Brown called a meeting of Lausche cabinet members to discuss state problems.

He gave assurances that officials could continue to serve if they desired while he held office, in an effort to preserve orderly operation of government.

Brown is scheduled to leave this afternoon for Cincinnati to keep a speaking date at a dinner meeting of the Lukenheimer Corp.

He will return to Columbus tonight and accept the governor's mansion with Mrs. Brown. He said plans still are indefinite.

Lausche's resignation near the end of his fifth term became effective at noon, the scheduled hour for Congress to convene in Washington where Lausche takes his oath as senator.

Brown's time in office will be brief. On Jan. 14 he must step aside for O'Neill.

Brown's salary for the next 11 days jumped from $6,000 to $20,000 (or, if a new law applies, $25,000) a year.

Woman, 5 Kiddies Die as Fire Hits Tarpaper Dwelling

READING, Pa. — A woman and five children burned to death today as flames roared through a one-story tarpaper covered dwelling five miles north of Reading.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Paul Rothermel, 48, in whose home the fire occurred.

85th Congress in Action; Civil Rights Battle Looms

WASHINGTON (P) — The 85th Congress rolled into action today with high priority marked for President Eisenhower's proposal to post a "hands off" sign against Communists in the Middle East.

And a battle over Senate rules, tied in with civil rights, was in the offing though the showdown appeared likely to be postponed.

The Senate and House began months-long sessions in an air of expectancy over Eisenhower's possible personal appearance before the lawmakers Friday to ask for standby authority to use American troops to combat any Communist military aggression in the Middle East.

Civil rights advocates generally conceded defeat in advance of any showdown. They said they were willing to postpone any vote on the issue until next week to clear the way for routine organization.

An expected $38½ billion defense budget was criticized by some Democrats as too small.

Lausche, sporting a red carnation in his coat lapel, sat in the rear on the Democratic side.

The galleries were packed.

ONE OF THE spectators was Adlai E. Stevenson, the unsuccessful Democratic presidential standard bearer in 1952 and 1956.

Lausche took his stand when the senators were called on to vote for a president pro tempore. This is the officer who presides when Vice President Nixon is absent.

The Democratic nominee was Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona. The GOP offered Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

Lausche went along with the rest of the Democrats. So it was Hayden, 49, Bridges 46.

A stillness settled over the chamber when Lausche's name was called.

There was a round of applause from the Democrats when he voted for Hayden.

For a freshman senator, Lausche certainly held the spotlight. And press galleries were certain they would hear more of this shaggy-headed man from Ohio.

They recalled two statements which long have been tacked onto Lausche:

1. He never has made a political mistake.

2. Nobody likes him but the people.

Lausche did not attend the initial conference of Democrats today and would not say at that time how he would vote.

He told newsmen, however, that "I will be at their conferences as time goes on."

Republicans who attended their closed door conference today said they could have all their forces present and voting if necessary when the Senate met at noon.

Previous indications were that the GOP might have one missing vote—that of Sen-elect Jacob K. Javits of New York, who had said he would finish out his term as New York state attorney general before taking his Senate oath.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said he understood Javits is in Washington and could be on hand to be sworn in and vote with the Republicans.

Lausche Ends Suspense, Gives Vote to Dems

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) voted today in favor of Democratic organization of the Senate.

The popular five-term former Ohio governor thus ended the suspense as to which way he would cast his lot.

He had caused some Senate Republican leaders to predict they would gain control of the Senate—assuming the independent-minded Ohioan smiled their way.

The November election gave Democrats a 49-47 margin over Republicans, but Lausche had said during the campaign he might vote with Republicans to organize the Senate under certain circumstances.

With Lausche silent as to his intentions, the air was heavy with tension as the senators met at noon today.

Lausche, sporting a red carnation in his coat lapel, sat in the rear on the Democratic side.

The galleries were packed.

ONE OF THE spectators was Adlai E. Stevenson, the unsuccessful Democratic presidential standard bearer in 1952 and 1956.

Lausche took his stand when the senators were called on to vote for a president pro tempore. This is the officer who presides when Vice President Nixon is absent.

The Democratic nominee was Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona. The GOP offered Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

Lausche went along with the rest of the Democrats. So it was Hayden, 49, Bridges 46.

A stillness settled over the chamber when Lausche's name was called.

There was a round of applause from the Democrats when he voted for Hayden.

For a freshman senator, Lausche certainly held the spotlight. And press galleries were certain they would hear more of this shaggy-headed man from Ohio.

They recalled two statements which long have been tacked onto Lausche:

1. He never has made a political mistake.

2. Nobody likes him but the people.

Lausche did not attend the initial conference of Democrats today and would not say at that time how he would vote.

He told newsmen, however, that "I will be at their conferences as time goes on."

IN RESPONSE to questions about his absence from the Democratic conference, Lausche said he arrived here late Wednesday night and "I rested a bit this morning."

Ohio Chief's Elevation First In 50 Years

Lieutenant Governor To Serve in High Post Only for Next 11 Days

COLUMBUS (P) — Republican Lt. Gov. John W. Brown at noon today took over the duties of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who resigned 11 days before his fifth term expired to become a U. S. senator.

Brown was sworn in by Robert Barton of Columbus, a member of U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker's law firm.

The ceremony beneath a picture of the late President William McKinley was witnessed by a crowd that filled the governor's reception room in the northwest corner of the statehouse.

Brown's wife, Violet, and daughter, Rosalie, wife of Air Force Capt. Grant N. Angelus, stood beside the interim governor.

Relatives, state officials and members of Lausche's cabinet were among those crowding about the rostrum set up for the ceremony.

Witnesses included Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill who will be inaugurated as governor on Jan. 14.

"Needless to say," Brown observed afterward, "this is the happiest moment of my life."

BROWN SAID he never expected to become governor after his defeat by O'Neill for the nomination in the Republican primary election last May.

After accepting congratulations from well-wishers, Brown called a meeting of Lausche cabinet members to discuss state problems.

He gave assurances that officials could continue to serve if they desired while he held office, in an effort to preserve orderly operation of government.

Brown is scheduled to leave this afternoon for Cincinnati to keep a speaking date at a dinner meeting of the Lutheran Church.

He will return to Columbus tonight and accept the governor's mansion with Mrs. Brown. He said plans still are indefinite.

Lausche's resignation near the end of his fifth term became effective at noon, the scheduled hour for Congress to convene in Washington where Lausche takes his oath as senator.

Brown's time in office will be brief. On Jan. 14 he must step aside for O'Neill.

Brown's salary for the next 12 days jumped from $6,000 to $20,000 (or, if a new law applied, $25,000) a year.

Woman, 5 Kiddies Die as Fire Hits Tarpaper Dwelling

READING, Pa. (P) — A woman and five children burned to death today as flames roared through a one-story tarpaper covered dwelling five miles north of Reading.

The victims were identified as: Mrs. Paul Rothermel, 48, in whose home the fire occurred.

Donna Rothermel, 4, and her brother, Eddie, 2, children of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rothermel of near Fleetwood, Pa. "The children's father is a brother of Paul."

Jimmy Brobst, 1, and his sister, Peggy, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. James Brobst of Kutztown. Mrs. Brobst is a daughter of the older Rothermels.

Carol Ann Fromm, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fromm of Reading. Mrs. Fromm is a sister of Paul Rothermel.

Two of India's Quintuplets Die

MADRAS, India (P) — Two of India's first quintuplets are dead and little hope is held for a third.

Hospital authorities said the other two babies are in normal health. The five girls were born on New Year's Eve to a 29-year-old Indian servant woman.

Chile Ups Wages

SANTIAGO (P) — The Chilean Congress has approved a bill to permit a 32 per cent rise in wages frozen by government edict last year. Despite price controls to curb inflation, living costs have risen 44 per cent.

3 Good Hope Cagers Hurt as Car Leaves Road

Two Others Escape
Injury in Crash
Wednesday Night

Robert Jenkins, 17, of Route 5, was still in Memorial Hospital here Thursday for treatment of injuries received when the car in which he was riding slid off a curve on the Good Hope Rd. at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday, hit a utility pole and tore down seven rods of fence on the D. H. Killenberger farm.

With him were four other youths, all seniors in Good Hope High School. All are members of the basketball squad, either varsity or reserve.

Two of them were injured and taken to the hospital with Jenkins in the Gerstner ambulance. They were treated and released. The other two were not seriously hurt.

GOOD HOPE Principal Harold Thomas said the boys were returning to their homes after the evening's basketball practice at the high school when the accident occurred.

Robert Jenkins, a regular on the reserve team, suffered severe face lacerations, chest injuries and a broken nose.

Roger Jenkins, 17, was treated for abrasions of the knee and chin.

Norman Kimball, 17, driver of the car, was treated for lacerations of the thigh and scalp. He is a regular and one of the mainstays of the varsity cage team.

The two in the car who were not taken to the hospital were Arthur Current and James Butcher.

Indications Thursday were that all but Robert Jenkins would be able to play in Friday night's basketball game with the Darby cagers at Good Hope.

WASHINGTON C. H. police reported two minor accidents following the New Year holiday.

In one of them, a car driven by Andrew C. Proney, 22, Cincinnati, was hit by an automobile driven by Dale Adams, 66, Sabina, as it pulled out from the curb on Court St. Wednesday. The right door and fender of Proney's car was damaged. Damage to Adams' car was slight.

In the other accident, a car driven by Robert W. Kreider, 20, Mount Sterling, collided with a station wagon driven by Otis B. Core, 55, of 825 Lincoln Dr., at the Court-Fayette St. intersection. The right door of the station wagon was damaged.

No charges were filed in either accident.

Canadian Rail Network Struck

MONTREAL (AP)—The Canadian Pacific Railway system (nearly half of Canada's rail network) was idled from the Atlantic to the Pacific today by a strike.

Prospects appeared dim for settlement of the dispute over the railway's plans to eliminate firemen from some diesel engines.

Some 3,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers quit their jobs at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

A total of some 75,000 CPR workers are expected to be laid off. Other unions pledged not to cross picket lines.

General Income Tax Cut Doubtful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Higher government costs and an anticipated record peacetime budget all but ruled out any general income tax reduction action in the Congress session opening today.

Although some pressures for individual income tax relief were expected, the consensus of key members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee seemed to be: "Not a chance."

However, bipartisan support has developed for some revision of business excise sales tax laws and for tax aid to small businesses.

Air Filter Stolen

Edwin Howard, Route 4, told police Thursday morning that the air filter had been removed from his Chevrolet truck while it was parked at the Cudahy Packing Co. plant on Dayton Ave.

Blessed Events

Howard L. Moles, Springfield, Dies

Howard L. Moles, 62, of 636 Snowhill Rd., Springfield, died Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. in Springfield City Hospital following a short illness.

A veteran of World War I overseas service, he had lived here for a short time after his marriage to Miss Leona Rhoads, but had spent most of his adult life in Springfield, where he was associated with the Hauck Bros. Furnace Co. Through the years, however, he had made many friends here during visits with Mrs. Moles' relatives.

He is survived by his wife; two sisters, Mrs. John Kirm of Urbana and Mrs. Olin Dodson of Troy, and a brother, Frank Moles, of Pasco, Wash., a retired naval officer.

Funeral services will be at the Littleton Funeral Home, 830 N. Limestone St., Springfield, at 1:30 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery, with brief committal services at about 3:30 p. m.

Tax Collection In Full Swing

$109,040 Received
In First Two Days

Two days after the books were opened for collection of 1956 property taxes in Fayette County, $109,040.57 had been paid to the county treasurer.

And every mail was piling higher the stack of check-bearing envelopes accumulating in the treasurer's office faster than the staff can open them and credit them on the books.

Treasurer Charles A. Fabb estimated Thursday morning that the checks in the unopened envelopes would amount to as much as the $109,040 paid and credited the first two days.

Total on the books for collection at the two collection periods this year is $944,554.65. That is about $50,000 more than last year.

Although only half of the total is due at this collection period, Fabb said many of property owners were paying the full year's tax now. He added that because of the pressure of trying to get the tax payments posted, he had not had time to even estimate the number of full-year payments.

THE FIRST statements were mailed out by the treasurer's office on Dec. 4 and the mailing was completed Dec. 26. Fabb said he was anxious to get the bills out in order that property owners could pay their taxes before Dec. 31 and deduct them in making their federal income tax returns.

But they were delayed, he explained, because the rates for an overlapping school district in Greene County were not received until just before Christmas.

The books will close for this collection period Jan. 20. Fabb said that, because only a little more than two weeks remain, it will be impossible to call all those who are slow in getting their checks in.

Most of the taxes now are being paid by check, Fabb said, and added this eliminates long waits when so many pay in person at the office.

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Highway Department reported today that most state roads were in normal condition despite the cold weather.

Lausche Ends

publicans on organization if necessary.

However, Bridges said Javits preferred not to be sworn in today because that would make it necessary for him to resign as New York state attorney general and give that post to the Democrats.

If Javits were present, and if Lausche voted with the Republicans, that would have meant a 48-48 tie which would be broken in favor of the GOP by Vice President Nixon who votes only in case of ties.

Lausche was as silent on the issue when he arrived at the nation's capital as he had been in Ohio during the past weeks when his vote was considered crucial.

WHEN ASKED by newsmen at National Airport if he had made up his mind about voting, Lausche replied: "I have, practically."

He said reports that attempts were made to pressure him from both sides were "false, without a scintilla (the slightest trace) of truth," and that if anyone had tried to pressure him, he would "vigorously rebuke them."

Pre-session preliminaries went smoothly in the Senate.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) was re-elected as his party's floor leader at what he described as "about the most harmonious conference I ever presided over."

Differences over civil rights and the prospect of a fight over changing the rules to weaken the filibuster weapon did not come up at the Democratic meeting at which Sen. Hayden of Arizona was nominated for president pro tempore, Johnson said.

Sen. Mansfield of Montana was nominated for the post of assistant floor leader or "whip."

Republicans also put on a show of harmony at their organization session.

Sen. Knowland (Calif.) was named to continue as GOP floor leader with Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts moving up from "whip" or assistant leader to become chairman of the conference of the 47 Republican senators. The conference chairmanship has been held by Sen. Millikin (Colo.), who did not seek re-election.

Sen. Dirksen of Illinois replaces Saltonstall as "whip." Sen. Bridge of New Hampshire continues as chairman of the GOP Senate Policy Committee.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

Idle Claims Up

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today that newly unemployed claimants for state benefits totaled 13,483 for the week ended Dec. 29 compared to 10,287 for the previous week.

WCH Man Charged In Theft of Wallet

A Washington C. H. man was bound over to the Pickaway County grand jury in Circleville Municipal Court Wednesday on a charge of grand larceny.

John Kearns, 39, was placed under $500 bond pending disposition of the case.

He is accused of taking a wallet owned by Kenneth Crawford, Circleville, who filed the affidavit leading to Kearns' arrest.

Conference Set

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State University's fourth annual conference for engineers and architects will be held here May 3. It is expected to attract more than 1,000 experts from throughout the nation.

But they were delayed, he explained, because the rates for an overlapping school district in Greene County were not received until just before Christmas. The books will close for this collection period Jan. 20. Fabb said that, because only a little more than two weeks remain, it will be impossible to call all those who are slow in getting their checks in.

Most of the taxes now are being paid by check, Fabb said, and added this eliminates long waits when so many pay in person at the office.

Highways Normal

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Highway Department reported today that most state roads were in normal condition despite the cold weather.

Lausche Ends

publicans on organization if necessary.

However, Bridges said Javits preferred not to be sworn in today because that would make it necessary for him to resign as New York state attorney general and give that post to the Democrats.

If Javits were present, and if Lausche voted with the Republicans, that would have meant a 48-48 tie which would be broken in favor of the GOP by Vice President Nixon who votes only in case of ties.

Lausche was as silent on the issue when he arrived at the nation's capital as he had been in Ohio during the past weeks when his vote was considered crucial.

WHEN ASKED by newsmen at National Airport if he had made up his mind about voting, Lausche replied: "I have, practically."

He said reports that attempts were made to pressure him from both sides were "false, without a scintilla (the slightest trace) of truth," and that if anyone had tried to pressure him, he would "vigorously rebuke them."

Pre-session preliminaries went smoothly in the Senate.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) was re-elected as his party's floor leader at what he described as "about the most harmonious conference I ever presided over."

Differences over civil rights and the prospect of a fight over changing the rules to weaken the filibuster weapon did not come up at the Democratic meeting at which Sen. Hayden of Arizona was nominated for president pro tempore, Johnson said.

Sen. Mansfield of Montana was nominated for the post of assistant floor leader or "whip."

Republicans also put on a show of harmony at their organization session.

Sen. Knowland (Calif) was named to continue as GOP floor leader with Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts moving up from "whip" or assistant leader to become chairman of the conference of the 47 Republican senators. The conference chairmanship has been held by Sen. Millikin (Colo.), who did not seek re-election.

Sen. Dirksen of Illinois replaces Saltonstall as "whip." Sen. Bridge of New Hampshire continues as chairman of the GOP Senate Policy Committee.

WCH Man Charged In Theft of Wallet

A Washington C. H. man was bound over to the Pickaway County grand jury in Circleville Municipal Court Wednesday on a charge of grand larceny.

John Kearns, 39, was placed under $500 bond pending disposition of the case.

He is accused of taking a wallet owned by Kenneth Crawford, Circleville, who filed the affidavit leading to Kearns' arrest.

Highway Building Should Be Free of Politics

Ohio's new incoming governor, C. William O'Neill, faces some difficult state problems when he embarks on his first term of office, but his experience as attorney general and his previous terms as a member of the Ohio General Assembly, have qualified him more than many of those before him, to do the good job as the state's chief executive, which his countless friends are confident he will do.

Not the least among the trials ahead for him will be the problems concerning Ohio's highways. That is one reason he is taking time to study the qualifications of those who are seeking positions in the state highway department from the top officials down the list.

While the state has a lot of money becoming available to spend on highways, no amount to be obtained will be enough to build all the roads this state needs. The demands of present day motor vehicle traffic in our fast growing state have become exceedingly heavy. A start can be made in 1937 on many needed projects but it is feared that many others, probably just as much needed, probably will be deferred.

Planning new highways and improving and changing others has become a big piece of work. This must be handled with care and, above all, should be kept out of partisan or other kinds of politics. O'Neill has indicated that he will do just that.

It is currently reported that the schedule of highway plans released by the present highway department just recently, unfortunately bears the earmarks of plenty of politics. The release of these plans for publication may make the situation somewhat difficult for Gov. O'Neill, because he may have some definite ideas of his own as to what should be done in the immediate future.

Schedules released from time to time in past years have been working papers, necessary at the time to get ahead with road building. Schedules recently released so close to a governmental change-over now have to some degree the appearance of stratagems to embarrass the incoming governor.

Gov. - elect C. William O'Neill and the highway director he appoints should have as free a hand as possible. For an outgoing administration to publish priorities is to lay land mines in the path of the succeeding one. Any change in the program now will have the look of withdrawing a benefit that the old administration promised. This will tend to subject highway construction to intensified regional pressures. These are already strong enough, and they are just the sort of thing which should not be allowed unduly to influence highway progress.

Old Wonder Drug: Water

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—On the morning after the night before many ailing Americans have a sudden personal interest in one of the world's oldest wonder drugs.

It is called water. Some wish to quaff it, hoping to bank an interior fire. Some want to rub it on their wrists, some to douse it on their hair and temples. A few want to crawl under a cool shower and lie there.

Some elders wish merely to sit in a room in which water has been turned to steam as they sweat and ponder the follies of the past—and their hopes for the future.

Just what is this magic substance, water, which so many people get interested in? Why do they want to surround it—or it to surround them?

Is water good or bad for the human race?

Scientists and bartenders regard it as an essential to normal life. But poets and philosophers disagree as to the importance it should have in a well-run civilization.

A thirsty sufferer might be interested in these varying views: "Water is the best of all things"—Pindar, 475 B. C.

"The natural, temperate and necessary beverage for the thirsty is water"—Clement of Alexandria.

"The greatest necessity of the soldier is water"—Napoleon Bonaparte.

"Water is the only drink for the wise man"—H. D. Thoreau. "Drinking water neither makes a man sick nor in debt, nor his wife a widow"—H. G. Bonn, 1855, who apparently, never heard of typhoid fever.

Yet the ancient Chinese did. They have a proverb that goes, "Water is feared less than fire, yet fewer suffer by fire than by water."

Here are a few other observations by critics of water:

"The people of England drink no water save at certain times for penance"—John Fortescue, 1462.

"Water is a very good servant, but it is a cruel master"—John Bullein, 1562.

"Water... both very greatly deject the appetite, destroy the natural heat, and overthrow the strength of the stomach, and consequently it is the cause of crudities, fluctuations and windiness in the body"—Tobias Venner, 1620.

Bernard Shaw on Broadway

By George Sokolsky

The fact that "Major Barbara" was written by George Bernard Shaw in 1905 no more dates it than "Faust" is dated because Goethe wrote it in 1808.

Each generation interprets its problems in its own way, and, although it is no longer true, if it ever was, that wars are made to keep munitions makers in business, it is true that inflations akin to war are prescribed by governments to give the impression of full employment in factories using automatic machinery.

Shaw is most skillful in "Major Barbara" as a prophet, since half a century after he wrote that play we are still dealing with all the problems that he raised, notably that of poverty. For whereas the wealth of the world has increased and there has been something of a universal redistribution of wealth through such means as Point Four, poverty has also increased, particularly in the satellite countries where human beings have been re-enslaved and have been left without any means of escape either by capitalist ingenuity or violent revolution. In Hungary, revolution was tried and was stamped down by butcher Zhukov; in no satellite country has capitalism been tried as an escape from the strait jacket of government control.

Even in capitalist countries, like the United States, government impositions and taxes lessen the individual's opportunity to rise above his station, as, for instance, Andrew Carnegie rose above his in another era. Taxes are too high and are collected too brutally. However those who possess inherited wealth or who have been able to accumulate wealth by honorable or dishonorable means are in a good position to improve their station.

For instance, one who was, let us say, a bootlegger in the 1920s violated the law. If he managed to avoid arrest and imprisonment or death at the hands of other bootleggers or their bankers, he is likely to have come into possession of a considerable fortune or some legitimate business and now is a respected person in his community as an easy giver to charity.

Shaw foresaw that possibility and describes it accurately. The whiskey manufacturer in "Ma-

Major Barbara" who made his fortune by getting Englishmen drunk saves their souls by contributing to charities which specialize in sobriety. His gamble is that more will prefer to be drunk than sober. And he is undoubtedly right in his estimate of human nature.

I noticed that the biggest laugh in the audience, when I saw Charles Laughton's performance of "Major Barbara," was when Andrew Undershaft, the munitions maker, ridiculed the government and those who went into it for a career. The American audience enjoyed those jokes as much in 1935 as in 1905 because there is still a feeling among most hard-working folks that those who cannot do anything else go into government where talents are not required.

It is not altogether true, however, that no talents are required of elected officials. They must have a talent for popularity, for saying the acceptance thing at moment of its greatest acceptance, of smiling when a sensible person would frown or even weep, of denouncing the virtuous but unpopular and of praising the indecent but popular. This takes enormous skill and impudence and those who succeed at it are very talented indeed.

It is also necessary to have a talent not only for making friends but for knowing when to discard those who, though faithful, have become a burden either because they insist upon being excessively truthful to the point of martyrdom or because they have made too many enemies by their persistence in a course which has run into deep sand. It is like on Broadway where a celebrity is one who has been so puffed by Walter Winchell that he defensively became an ingrate.

Startlingly one must reach the conclusion in 1935 that no one writes about our times as ably as Shaw did. Perhaps no one, in our times, can get the financial backing from the manufacturers who gamble on plays and expect to get their money back from benefits which rob the public as Undershaft made his by selling murderous weapons.

To get backing for a thought-provoking play, it is advisable to use the name of a dead playwright, who is more attractive than a live one except for those vaudeville shows called musicals the financial problems of which can always be solved by putting dirty words in the mouths of in adequately clothed females.

What Are Chances For Multiple Birth?

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
What are your chances of giving birth to twins or triplets?

Statistics say that twins occur once in every 87 births. Triplets are born one in every 10,000.

But that doesn't tell the whole story. Age, race and parity apparently play an important part in determining your particular chances of having more than one child at a time.

Better Chance

Older women seem to have a better chance for giving birth to twins than do younger girls. In the 35 to 39 age bracket the twinning incidence is about 17 for every 1,000 births.

For women under 20 it is only 6 per 1,000 births. A few years back, a 12-year-old Kentucky girl gave birth to twins.

Multiple births occur more often among negroes than any other race.

Women who already have had children seem to have a better chance of giving birth to twins, triplets or four of a kind than does a woman who has been previously childless.

Once a set of twins has been born, it sometimes sets a pattern for that mother's future births. At least two women each had two sets of twins last year.

In February, a Rochester, New York, mother gave birth of her second pair of twins in ten months. The following May, a Jeffersonville, Indiana, woman had her second set in eleven months.

While taking a little more time, a Quebec mother has really set a mark to shoot at. She has had six sets of twins in eight years! There have been several cases in which twins have been born several weeks and even months apart.

Combined Weight

The heaviest set of twins born in this country, as far as I know, is a combined weight of 22 pounds. These twins were born in Louisville, Illinois, in 1941.

The world's record was set by English twins whose birth weight totaled 35½ pounds. One weighed 17½ pounds, the other 18 pounds. The greatest number of babies ever delivered at one time is six. Although there have been several cases of sextuplets, none has lived more than 24 hours.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. W. S.: I am developing a patchy baldness on my head. Will my hair ever re-grow?

Answer: It is possible that you are suffering from a type of baldness known as alopecia areata. Many times the hair grows back by itself in this type of disease. You should consult a skin specialist for treatment.

The Answer Quick

1. Can porcupines really shoot their needles through the air?
2. What is called "The Invisible Empire"?
3. What toilet article and germicide is named for a man who made great advances in the field of antiseptic surgery?
4. What is Oliver Goldsmith's most famous poem?
5. What is the Old Bailey?

Your Future

A very happy romance or domestic event should rejoice your heart in the year beginning for you. Take the advice of an older friend who gives good counsel. Born under these influences, a child will be thoughtful and studious and also very loving and affectionate. A respected and prosperous life is envisioned.

Bomb Scare Heard In Cincinnati too

CINCINNATI (AP)—The bomb scare came to Cincinnati Wednesday when police were told by phone that an explosive had been placed in Hughes High School.

Although they called it a hoax, four detectives were sent to the school to make a thorough search. Elmer W. Kizer, the principal, said classes were not disrupted.

Police said a person with a youthful voice called and declared: "There's a bomb planted in Hughes High School."

Asked for more information and for his name, the caller hung up.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any chance the Senate will kill filibustering? Almost none.

Nevertheless some Northern and Western Democrats, plus some Republicans, have whipped up enthusiasm among themselves for an early try in this new Congress opening today.

They'd like to get some civil rights legislation passed this year. About their only hope of doing so is in preventing Southern Democrats from filibustering, or talking to death, civil rights proposals. This is an ABC.

Both House and Senate have rules for doing business. The 435 House members could never get any work done unless they put a time limit on their own talking. They have a rule making filibustering impossible.

The Senate has a rule permitting them. If enough of the 96 senators really wanted to wipe out filibustering, they could. They could do it by changing their own rule.

But senators are jealous of the right they've bestowed on themselves to talk at great length. It's a weapon each of them can use sometime to block, or try to block, a measure he doesn't like.

Here's the Senate rule on filibustering:

1. The Senate can't stop a filibuster against a bill unless a constitutional two-thirds—64 of the 96 members—vote to do it. It's hard to do, with so many senators, openly or privately favoring their right to unlimited talking.

2. But before a bill can even be debated, or filibustered, a motion must be made to bring it up. That can be filibustered too. And that can't be stopped except by the same kind of constitutional vote of two-thirds.

Since the Senate makes its own rules, can't it change this one? Sure. But that is even tougher to do. There's no provision for ending a filibuster — not even by a two-thirds vote — against an attempt to change the rules.

So if the Democrats and Republicans who are against filibustering want to change the rules, the Southern Democrats can filibuster till they drop of exhaustion. That could hold up the Senate's work for weeks.

But there's another avenue the antifilibusterers are planning to try.

House members are elected for two-year terms. At the beginning of each odd-numbered year, the 435 House members, newly elected the previous November, take office. That's indisputably a brand new session of the House.

Because this is so, each newly elected House has to have rules. Each goes through the formality of adopting the rules of the previous House whose term had just expired.

But the Senate is different, or claims to be different, because its 96 members are elected to six-year terms, a third of them being elected every two years.

So the argument is made that the Senate, unlike the House, is a continuing body and just keeps the same rules from generation to generation.

The foes of filibustering may argue that this reasoning is wrong that every two years, when Congress begins a new session, the Senate must be considered new and must do what the House does: adopt its predecessors' rules before starting business.

Highway Building Should Be Free of Politics

Ohio's new incoming governor, C. William O'Neill, faces some difficult state problems when he embarks on his first term of office, but his experience as attorney general and his previous terms as a member of the Ohio General Assembly, have qualified him more than many of those before him, to do the good job as the state's chief executive, which his countless friends are confident he will do.

Not the least among the trials ahead for him will be the problems concerning Ohio's highways. That is one reason he is taking time to study the qualifications of those who are seeking positions in the state highway department from the top officials down the list.

While the state has a lot of money becoming available to spend on highways, no amount to be obtained will be enough to build all the roads this state needs. The demands of present day motor vehicle traffic in our fast growing state have become exceedingly heavy. A start can be made in 1937 on many needed projects but it is feared that many others, probably just as much needed, probably will be deferred.

Planning new highways and improving and changing others has become a big piece of work. This must be handled with care and, above all, should be kept out of partisan or other kinds of politics. O'Neill has indicated that he will do just that.

It is currently reported that the schedule of highway plans released by the present highway department just recently, unfortunately bears the earmarks of plenty of politics. The release of these plans for publication may make the situation somewhat difficult for Gov. O'Neill, because he may have some definite ideas of his own as to what should be done in the immediate future.

Schedules released from time to time in past years have been working papers, necessary at the time to get ahead with road building. Schedules recently released so close to a governmental change-over now have to some degree the appearance of strategems to embarrass the incoming governor.

Gov. - elect C. William O'Neill and the highway director he appoints should have as free a hand as possible. For an outgoing administration to publish priorities is to lay land mines in the path of the succeeding one. Any change in the program now will have the look of withdrawing a benefit that the old administration promised. This will tend to subject highway construction to intensified regional pressures. These are already strong enough, and they are just the sort of thing which should not be allowed unduly to influence highway progress.

Old Wonder Drug: Water

NEW YORK (AP)—On the morning after the night before many ailing Americans have a sudden personal interest in one of the world's oldest wonder drugs.

It is called water. Some wish to quaff it, hoping to bank an interior fire. Some want to rub it on their wrists, some to douse it on their heads and temples. A few want to crawl under a cool shower and lie there.

Some elders wish merely to sit in a room in which water has been turned to steam as they sweat and ponder the follies of the past—and their hopes for the future.

Just what is this magic substance, water, which so many people get interested in? Why do they want to surround it—or it to surround them?

Is water good or bad for the human race?

Scientists and bartenders regard it as an essential to normal life. But poets and philosophers disagree as to the importance it should have in a well-run civilization.

A thirsty sufferer might be interested in these varying views: "Water is the best of all things"—Pindar, 475 B. C.

"The natural, temperate and necessary beverage for the thirsty is water"—Clement of Alexandria.

"The greatest necessity of the soldier is water"—Napoleon Bonaparte.

"Water is the only drink for the wise man"—H. D. Thoreau. "Drinking water neither makes a man sick nor in debt, nor his wife a widow"—H. G. Bonn, 1855.

By Hal Boyle

who apparently never heard of typhoid fever.

Yet the ancient Chinese did. They have a proverb that goes, "Water is feared less than fire, yet fewer suffer by fire than by water."

Here are a few other observations by critics of water:

"The people of England drink no water save at certain times for penance"—John Fortescue, 1462.

"Water is a very good servant, but it is a cruel master"—John Bullen, 1562.

"Water . . . both very greatly deject the appetite, destroy the natural heat, and overthrow the strength of the stomach, and consequently it is the cause of crudities, fluctuations and windiness in the body"—Tobia Vener, 1620.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
What are your chances of giving birth to twins or triplets?

Statistics say that twins occur once in every 87 births. Triplets are born one in every 10,000.

But that doesn't tell the whole story. Age, race and parity apparently play an important part in determining your particular chances of having more than one child at a time.

Better Chance

Older women seem to have a better chance for giving birth to twins than do younger girls. In the 35 to 39 age bracket the twinning incidence is about 17 for every 1,000 births.

For women under 20 it is only 6 per 1,000 births. A few years back, a 12-year-old Kentucky girl gave birth to twins.

Multiple births occur more often among negroes than any other race.

Women who already have had children seem to have a better chance of giving birth to twins, triplets or four of a kind than does a woman who has been previously childless.

Once a set of twins has been born, it sometimes sets a pattern for that mother's future births. At least two women each had two sets of twins last year.

In February, a Rochester, New York, mother gave birth of her second pair of twins in ten months. The following May, a Jeffersonville, Indiana, woman had her second set in eleven months.

While taking a little more time, a Quebec mother has really set a mark to shoot at. She has had six sets of twins in eight years! There have been several cases in which twins have been born several weeks and even months apart.

Combined Weight

The heaviest set of twins born in this country, as far as I know, is a combined weight of 22 pounds. These twins were born in Louisville, Illinois, in 1941.

The world's record was set by English twins whose birth weight totaled 35½ pounds. One weighed 17½ pounds, the other 18 pounds. The greatest number of babies ever delivered at one time is six. Although there have been several cases of sextuplets, none has lived more than 24 hours.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. W. S.: I am developing a patchy baldness on my head. Will my hair ever re-grow?

Answer: It is possible that you are suffering from a type of baldness known as alopecia areata. Many times the hair grows back by itself in this type of disease. You should consult a skin specialist for treatment.

The Answer Quick

1. Can porcupines really shoot their needles through the air?
2. What is called "The Invisible Empire"?
3. What toilet article and germicide is named for a man who made great advances in the field of antisepsis surgery?
4. What is Oliver Goldsmith's most famous poem?
5. What is the Old Bailey?

Your Future

A very happy romance or domestic event should rejoice your heart in the year beginning for you. Take the advice of an older friend who gives good counsel. Born under these influences, a child will be thoughtful and studious and also very loving and affectionate. A respected and prosperous life is envisioned.

Bomb Scare Heard In Cincinnati too

CINCINNATI (AP)—The bomb scare came to Cincinnati Wednesday when police were told by phone that an explosive had been placed in Hughes High School.

Although they called it a hoax, four detectives were sent to the school to make a thorough search. Elmer W. Kizer, the principal, said classes were not disrupted.

Police said a person with a youthful voice called and declared: "There's a bomb planted in Hughes High School."

Asked for more information and for his name, the caller hung up.

Vice Adm. Brown Dies at Age 74

TON, Conn. (AP)—Vice Adm. Wilson Brown, naval aide to four presidents and a former superintendent of the Naval Academy, died Wednesday at the submarine base hospital here. He was 74.

Adm. Brown served as aide to Presidents Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover, Harry S. Truman and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He commanded the Naval Academy from 1938-41.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any chance the Senate will kill filibustering? Almost none.

Never! Unless some Northern and Western Democrats, plus some Republicans, have whipped up enthusiasm among themselves for an early try in this new Congress opening today.

They'd like to get some civil rights legislation passed this year. About their only hope of doing so is in preventing Southern Democrats from filibustering, or talking to death, civil rights proposals.

This is an ABC: Both House and Senate have rules for doing business. The 435 House members could never get any work done unless they put a time limit on their own talking. They have a rule making filibusters impossible.

The Senate has a rule permitting them. If enough of the 96 senators really wanted to wipe out filibustering, they could. They could do it by changing their own rule.

But senators are jealous of the right they've bestowed on themselves to talk at great length. It's a weapon each of them can use sometime to block, or try to block, a measure he doesn't like.

Here's the Senate rule on filibustering:

1. The Senate can't stop a filibuster against a bill unless a constitutional two-thirds—64 of the 96 members—vote to do it. It's hard to do, with so many senators, openly or privately favoring their right to unlimited talking.

2. But before a bill can even be debated, or filibustered, a motion must be made to bring it up. That can be filibustered, too. And that can't be stopped except by the same kind of constitutional vote of two-thirds.

Since the Senate makes its own rules, can't it change this one? Sure. But that is even tougher to do. There's no provision for ending a filibuster — not even by a two-thirds vote — against an attempt to change the rules.

So if the Democrats and Republicans who are against filibusters want to change the rules, the Southern Democrats can filibuster till they drop of exhaustion. That could hold up the Senate's work for weeks.

But there's another avenue the antifilibusterers are planning to try.

House members are elected for two-year terms. At the beginning of each odd-numbered year, the 435 House members, newly elected the previous November, take office. That's indisputably a brand new session of the House.

Because this is so, each newly elected House has to have rules. Each goes through the formality of adopting the rules of the previous House whose term had just expired.

But the Senate is different, or claims to be different, because its 96 members are elected to six-year terms, a third of them being elected every two years.

So the argument is made that the Senate, unlike the House, is a continuing body and just keeps the same rules from generation to generation.

The foes of filibustering may argue that this reasoning is wrong that every two years, when Congress begins a new session, the Senate must be considered new and must do what the House does: adopt its predecessors' rules before starting business.

Dineen-Trimmer Wedding Is Event of Saturday December 29

MRS. JACK TRIMMER

St. Raphael Chapel, Upper Arlington, Columbus, was the scene Saturday, December 29, of the wedding of Miss Joan Erin Dineen, daughter of Mr. John J. Dineen, of Columbus, and Mr. Jack Trimmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Trimmer, 612 E. Paint St., of this city.

The double ring ceremony took place at eleven-thirty in the morning and was performed by the Monsignor William Robben with only members of the family and close friends in attendance.

The Chapel was beautifully decorated with poinsettias, evergreen, and six frosted Christmas trees, graduated in size, formed an arch for a manger scene.

Given in marriage by her father, as the traditional wedding marches were played, the bride wore a princess style gown fashioned of crystal and imported Chantilly lace. The gown featured a strapless bodice topped by a winged sleeved jacket and this was highlighted by a tiny mandarin collar and lace covered buttons studded the front. The full gored skirt of ballerina length fell from over an old fashioned hoop, and her finger tip veil of imported French illusion was caught to a lattice framed crown of lace and petite pearls. She carried a crescent of white roses surrounded by variegated green foliage.

Miss Patricia Dineen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the gown she wore was of dusty rose silk taffeta, re-embroidered with silk flowers. The torso bodice featured a scoop neckline, gathered cap sleeves and a very full bouffant ballerina length skirt. Her tiny matching hat was trimmed

WSCS Members Hold Meeting At Church

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Grace Methodist Church held its regular Church Day meeting in Fellowship Hall Wednesday, with a noon luncheon served by ladies of Circle 10, with Mrs. Claude Davis, the leader.

Mrs. B. E. Kelley rendered a piano selection which opened the afternoon session and Mrs. Hazel Weade, president, read an article "A Way To a Happy New Year," and presided at the business meeting.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved as were Circle leader reports. Mrs. D. B. Nelson, secretary of Missionary Education stated that there would be a study course on "Southeast Asia", and the dates are to be announced at another time.

Mrs. Weade announced that the Executive Board meeting will be held January 15, and officer reports will be made out at this time. It was requested that all ladies who had not picked up their dishes from the smorgasbord dinner please do so at once.

Mrs. R. R. Meriwether led in devotions reading the Christmas Scripture and using as her theme "Christmas Is Over". She closed with prayer.

The program chairman, Mrs. Earl Grimm, read a poem "Another Year", and directed attention to the goals of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. She then introduced Mrs. John Trace who gave a most interesting talk on the highlights of her family's three-year stay in Samoa. She showed some beautiful colored slides that in rhinestones with a circular face veil and she carried a crescent of deep red carnations.

Mr. George L. Trimmer of Columbus, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were Lt. John Robbins of Ft. Benning, Ga., and Mr. Jim DeBott of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Trimmer, mother of the bridegroom chose for the wedding a Dior blue street length dress, including white accessories and her corsage was of white carnations.

Following the beautiful ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, and the traditional wedding cake was three tiered, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The new Mrs. Trimmer is a graduate of Our Lady of Victory High School in Columbus, in the class of 1954 and attended Ohio University. She is also a member of Pi Beta Phi Sorority.

Mr. Trimmer graduated from Washington High School in the class of 1950 and also attended Ohio University. He is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity, and is presently employed by the Groler Co. of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Following their honeymoon the couple will return to their newly established home at 216 Sanford, S. E., Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Personals

Dr. and Mrs. Frank King and son Albert Franklin, have returned to their home after a Christmas cruise to Cuba on the SS Florida.

Mr. Eddie McFadden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McFadden of Bloomingburg, has returned to his studies at Miami University, Oxford, after spending the holidays at the home of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Crumley of McAllen, Texas, have returned to their home after visiting over the holidays with Mr. Crumley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crumley of this city. Additional guests at a family dinner held in their honor were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denton, children Sanda, Greg and Douglas of this city.

Dr. and Mrs. Francis Haines and sons have returned to their home after a two weeks visit in Naples, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper, Jr., have returned to their home in Albuquerque, New Mexico, following a visit over the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper, Sr.

They had taken showing the dress customs, homes, schools and churches of these people and also displayed handiwork made by some of the natives, thus bringing to a close a very interesting program.

Bender Mails Last Newsletter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U. S. Sen. George H. Bender's weekly newsletter, familiar to his constituents for the past 18 years, was circulated for the last time Wednesday.

Bender, a Republican, was defeated Nov. 6 in the Ohio senatorial race by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

His letter read: "Due to circumstances beyond my control, this will be the last newsletter in a series of which has appeared for the last 18 years. 'Will we have peace on earth, good will towards men in 1957?'"

Madison Mills WSCS Meets At Hidy Home

Mrs. Glen Hidy was a congenial hostess Wednesday afternoon when she entertained members of the Madison Mills WSCS.

The vice president, Mrs. Wilbur Allemand, presided and the singing of the hymn "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me," opened the meeting, and Mrs. Allemand read a poem entitled "Live Today."

Devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Forrest Fry and included articles "Buffington's Dream," and "Faiths Cabin Library." Cards of thanks were read from mission homes in Georgia and Alaska for donations received there.

Mrs. Leland Dorn conducted the afternoon program and the subject she chose was "Islands in My Community." Mrs. Dorn gave a prayer which was followed by the praying of the Lord's Prayer in unison and a dialogue "Spirit of Understanding," was given and those participating were Mrs. Frank Barrett, Mrs. Kenneth Campbell and Mrs. Dorn. The hymn "This Is My Creed," was sung by the group which closed the program.

During the business meeting eighteen members answered roll call and Mrs. Wayne Shobe gave a report of the Christmas party held at the State Hospital in Columbus which was sponsored by the WSCS. Mrs. Barrett read a letter about the Lancaster Camp Fund and a donation was made to this. Mrs. Allemand read a short poem "A Faithful Friend," and the repeating of the Mizpah benediction closed the afternoon meeting.

Mrs. A. E. Dawson and Mrs. Frank Barrett, the refreshment committee, served a delicious desert course during the social hour, and the next meeting will be with Mrs. Bess Seaman.

Lana Jamison Is Honored On Tenth Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jamison entertained at their home Tuesday afternoon and the occasion honored the tenth birthday of their daughter Lana Sharon.

Colorful balloons were found throughout the home and several prizes were awarded during the playing of various games. Favors of plastic cups filled with colored mints and little address books were presented to each guest.

Refreshments served included ice cream molds with green bells and the birthday cake was lovely with green icing topped with pink decorations.

Later in the afternoon Lana opened her many gifts and thanked each one in her own sweet manner.

Guests at the party were members of the fourth grade at Cherry

Hill School who are: Margaret Fisher, Doreen Anders, Noreen Moore, Diane White, Pamela Payton; Marjorie Roszmann, Claudia Reser, Mary Jo Strong, Cynthia Thomas, Patty Patrick, Patty Wilson, Linda Whiteside, Carol Cahall, Sharon Christman, Chris Kerns, Coleen Self, Brenda Looker and Rita Himmler. Linda Tatman and Cynthia Grundies were included as additional guests.

DAR To Meet At Lovell Home

The Washington Court House Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will hold the first meeting of the new year on Monday, January 7, at two-thirty in the afternoon.

Mrs. William Lovell will graciously open her home for this important meeting and she will be assisted during the afternoon by members of the January hostess group, Miss Emma Jackson, Mrs.

W. A. Creamer, Mrs. E. T. Rockwell, Mrs. Walter Hays, Mrs. Harry Parrett, Mrs. Glenn Rodgers, Miss Alberta Coffman, Mrs. Herbert Hartman, Mrs. Leland Stevens, Mrs. John Morehouse, Mrs. W. A. Melvin, Mrs. Wilbur Hoppes, Mrs. Roy Sollars, Mrs. Ben Beard and Mrs. Lawson Stuckey.

The Regent, Mrs. Thomas H. Parrett, will conduct the meeting and preside during the election of the delegates and alternates to both the State Conference and to the Continental Congress.

The State Conference will be held March 18, 19, 20 at Dayton, with the Jonathan Dayton and Daniel Cooper chapters as hostesses and sixty-sixth Continental Congress will be held in Washington D. C., April 15 through the 19th.

Honduras Mission School Work Described to Rotary

A story of missionary work and farming in Honduras, Central America, was told to Rotarians and guests by Donald Hawk, a native of Fayette County engaged in this field of activity for the past nine years, at the club's meeting Wednesday at the Country Club.

Hawk is at present living in Bloomingburg and is on leave since last September from his duties as an interdenominational mission member of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, located on Gregg St. here. He also is identified with the World Gospel Mission, with headquarters in Marion, Ind.

WHEN HERE about three years ago on leave, Hawk related some of his experiences to Rotarians. He says that he expects to return to Honduras again early summer.

Introduced by W. P. Noble, the speaker told many things about his own activities and about the little country in which he is conducting a private mission elementary school for homeless and underprivileged boys, usually from 8 to 20 years of age.

The school, located on a farm, was financed to a large extent, by the World Gospel Mission. The Church of Christ in Christian Union here, pays the expenses of Hawk and his family. The cost of upkeep, he says, is met by contributions from various people and organizations interested in what his school is doing. It is not connected with the public schools of Honduras but prepares boys for high school work.

THE SPEAKER stated that the school selects boys for a class of 35 to 50 members and keeps them on the school farm. Most of the students in recent years have been able to pass examinations for entry into high school with excellent grades, quite a number of them in the "honor class".

The mission school is located in a rather poor part of the country where the inhabitants are poor and have difficulty sending children to school.

Hawk said that most of the children were of Indian descent and a large percentage of the children are of illegitimate birth. Most of the people of that region are illiterate and living conditions are primitive.

THE INTEREST of those who heard him was indicated as he concluded his talk by questions from his audience over a period of nearly 20 minutes.

During the pre-program club session birthday greetings were sung for John Ellcessor, George Steen and George Kratz.

Visitors were Edwin Sollars of Stuttgart, Ark., with Walter Sollars who was also accompanied by Marion Sollars, a Rotarian at DeWitt, Ark. Two other visiting Rotarians at this meeting were W. A. Yardley of Charleston, Ill., and William Kennedy, Greenfield.

PRESIDENT Robert Lisk announced 100 tickets had been called for by Rotarians and their Anns from Hillsboro and Greenfield for the Tri-City Rotary dinner meeting at the Country Club here on Friday, Jan. 11 at 6:30 p. m. when the speaker will be Dr. Grayson Kirk, president of Columbia University, who will talk on "The International Political Situation in the Middle East".

The club here has arranged for 300 places at the dinner, including the local club members and their Anns.

Musicians Union Faces Big Lawsuit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A six-million-dollar suit has been filed against the American Federation of Musicians by Republic Pictures Corp., charging the union with exercising a monopoly over the use of movies on television.

The film studio said no movie can be shown on TV without the consent of the AFM nor without payment into a union trust fund of 5 percent of the gross revenue derived from TV exhibition.

The suit asked that the trust fund agreement be declared illegal and that the agreement prohibiting the use of movies on TV without union consent be voided.

Unarmed Bandit Collects Anyhow

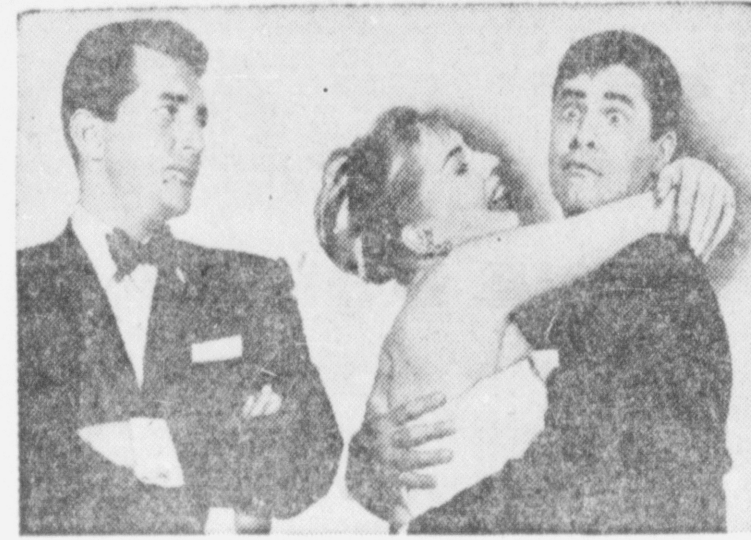

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Police today sought a man who dealt himself in on a pot at the Flint Pinocchio Club and won it on a bluff.

He walked into the club and announced he intended to rob the place.

John Morgan, a club employee, told the man he couldn't get away with it because he didn't have a gun.

Calling his empty hand failed to rattle the stranger. He walked to the cash register, scooped up $90 and left.

Morgan told police he and several customers were too stunned to interfere.

COMING TO FAYETTE—What a prize for two joy-riding guys 'Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis are shown in Hal Wallis' production, "Hollywood or Bust," a Technicolor film coming Sunday to the Fayette Theatre. Anita Ekberg is the guest star.

Greenfield Beer Ordinance Tested

GREENFIELD — A hearing on the action brought by Paul Angel, operator of the 28 Club at Greenfield, to test the validity of a Greenfield village ordinance banning the sale of 3.2 beer on Sunday will be held Monday, Jan. 14 at 10 a. m.

Judge William Radcliffe, Pickaway County Common Pleas Court jurist, will hear the case. Judge Radcliffe earlier turned down a motion by Angel for a temporary injunction against the village officials who were attempting to enforce the ordinance.

Finger-in-Dike Is Modernized

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa. (AP)—Here's a man who now has a keener appreciation of that legend about a Dutch boy who thrust a finger in a hole in the dike and saved Holland from a flood.

Charles C. Hansell spent a numbing half hour Wednesday crouched beside his basement fuel oil tank with his finger plugging a leak to stop the flow of inflammable liquid. About 35 gallons already had flooded his cellar, dangerously close to the flame of the house heating unit.

Hansell's wife and children fled to a neighbor's house and summoned repairmen.

Revenue Agent To Help with Income Reports

Russell A. Welch, director of the Cincinnati district of Internal Revenue Service, announces that provision has been made to assist taxpayers in the Washington C. H. area with their current income tax questions.

A competent revenue agent will be at the Chamber of Commerce office 125 1/2 N. Fayette St., from 8:15 a. m. until 1 p. m. and from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m. on Jan. 30 and 31, Feb. 14 and 15, and April 12 and 15. Telephone service will not be available.

The deadline for filing personal income tax returns is April 15.

"The taxpayer needing assistance in the preparation of his return will receive more prompt attention by preparing as much of his return as possible and by not waiting until the last minute," Welch said.

A taxpayer, other than a farmer, may file his return and pay the tax due by Jan. 31 if he desires to be relieved of the necessity of filing a declaration as the result of income received after Sept. 15 of the taxable year, or desires to be relieved of the necessity of filing an amended declaration on account of income received in the last quarter and not taken into consideration in the original or prior estimate.

Valuable Nickel Stolen by Thugs

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two guards at the Eaton Manufacturing Co. stamping plant here were tied up Wednesday by six masked gunmen who loaded 25,000 pounds of nickel anodes into a truck and drove off.

The company valued the nickel at $1 a pound, but detectives said the loot would bring $100,000 on the black market.

Robert Stearn, 45, of Mentor, and guard Lt. Carl Downing, 51, of Cleveland, were bound.

The nickel is used for plating automobile bumpers and bumper guards at the plant before the chrome finish is applied. It was in the form of 70-pound anodes ready for the plating process.

New York City, Philadelphia and Memphis won awards in 1956 from the National Noise Abatement Council for efforts "to quiet the excessive din caused by growing populations."

Between them the so-called independents, Studebaker-Packard and American Motors, built approximately 200,000 in 1956, compared with around 340,000 in 1955.

5 Railroads Ask Boost in Rates

COLUMBUS (AP)—Five railroads have asked the state utilities commission to permit them to raise passenger rates by five per cent in Ohio, the same amount the Interstate Commerce Commission recently approved on interstate fares.

They also asked permission to increase first class passenger fares by 45 per cent, but want action on this request deferred until after ICC looks into it.

The railroads are Chesapeake and Ohio, New York Central, Norfolk and Western, Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh and Lake Erie.

January Slated To Be Cooler

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau said Wednesday January is likely to see colder weather than normal for the eastern half of the nation.

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal east of the Appalachians with considerable snow from Virginia northward. Below normal amounts are predicted for the Great Lakes region.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

The "Paint Valley Prophet" called me out of the office to show me a "little turtle" he had caught.

I was much surprised when he dumped a big turtle out of a sack, and informed me that it weighed 21 pounds.

"I got him out of Paint Creek, and I have been trying to get him for several years" the Prophet declared as he looked with pride upon his big catch.

He also stated that it was the largest turtle he had caught for several years, and that he had captured him with a hook.

At this period of the year turtles usually are deep in the mud, hibernating for the winter.

WHITE OAK RIDGE

Extending from a point near Bloomingburg to the Sedalia community in Madison County is a small eminence, ranging from 10 to 20 feet in height, which formerly was known as "White Oak Ridge" since it fairly bristled with white oak timber, some of the trees being up to six feet in diameter at the base.

This ridge was formed by the last glacier which rode in over Fayette County many thousands of years ago, probably remained for hundreds of years, and then retreated just about as slowly as it spread over this area (which probably was a matter of a few inches each year.)

This ridge is largely of clay, with occasional deposits of gravel, and might well have been at the other edge of a spearhead of ice which was slower in retreating than some of the other ice.

To clear the land, the axmen felled the timber and the entire tree was burned to get it out of the way so the land could be cultivated. This was the plan carried out throughout the county, and millions of feet of what would have been the finest kind of lumber went up in smoke.

The Vesey Cemetery, four miles north of Bloomingburg, just east of Route 38, is located on White Oak Ridge, and I have seen many white oak trees on the Vesey land near the cemetery, which measured at least five feet in diameter. This timber was cut and sawed upward of 50 years ago.

GLAMORIZED PUMPKIN

I have given you a few recipes in this column that were used by the old timers up to 125 years ago, but now I am going to give you a bit of information on glamorizing just plain, ordinary pumpkin, such as one may buy in cans or may cook at home.

Ordinarily about the only seasoning added to stewed pumpkin or pumpkin pies, is some ginger, or possibly a touch of cinnamon.

However when cinnamon and allspice are used rather liberally, and a small amount of salt added, ordinary pumpkin takes on a new attraction and is delicious to say the least.

Those who prefer ginger or cinnamon for stewed pumpkin, or pies, will find that a little salt lifts it out of the commonplace.

But for me, just give me plenty of cinnamon and allspice, with a touch of salt, and stewed pumpkin with bread and butter is fit for a king! Likewise pumpkin pie.

BIG APPLE ORCHARDS

For a great many years Fayette County was known for its fine apple orchards, but when the bugs and other insects started taking their share of the apples and other fruit crops, most of the orchard owners gave up in despair. Soon the orchards fell into decay, and, within a few years passed entirely out of the picture.

As the trees died they were removed and burned, and the once prolific orchards were planted to corn and other crops.

Some of these wonderful orchards were still much in evidence as late as 50 years ago, but since that time, with the advent of so many apples from the West and other places in the local markets, the growing of apples as a valuable adjunct to farm life was discontinued, just like butter-making on the farm.

The largest orchards I ever saw in Fayette County were located on the Joseph Rodgers farm, on the Danville Rd. two miles north of Bloomingburg, where 40 acres was devoted to growing apples.

The Rodgers orchards were famous, and people for miles around went there and hauled away apples by the wagon loads, paying 10 to 25 cents a bushel and picking the apples themselves.

I recall more than one visit to the orchards, and the choice fruit produced by the hundreds of trees. The orchards contained nearly a half score different kinds.

Each year when the crop was good, hundreds of bushels of choice apples froze, because the supply was greater than the demand.

It was not uncommon when Fayette County orchards were at their peak, for thousands of bushels of apples and other fruit to perish by reason of over-production.

Spraying was virtually unknown in the days of big orchards, but now growing perfect fruit is almost impossible without a series of spraying from early in the spring until the fruit is fully matured.

Few farms have orchards on them now, and these orchards are very small. At present there are only two or three commercial orchards in the entire county, and these produce choice apples and other fruit in abundance during good fruit years.

Marion FOE Loses $5,500 to Yeggs

MARION (AP)—Safecrackers Wednesday broke open two large safes at the Eagles Lodge clubrooms and looted them of $5,500 in cash receipts from New Year's business, police reported.

Police said the theft appeared to be the work of professional safecrackers. They left a number of crowbars, punches and sledges behind when they fled.

$11 Million Is Refunded In State Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—From the taxpayers' viewpoint, the state tax commissioner, Stanley J. Bowers, turned out to be about the biggest Santa Claus in state government.

Bowers' department has all but completed refunding almost 11 million dollars in taxes paid by financial institutions from 1947 to 1955. He has issued 1,233 certificates of abatement which can be used by financial institutions to pay taxes later on.

Decisions by the U. S. and Ohio supreme courts held Ohio was wrong in taxing federal securities held by banks.

The tax involved is an intangible personal property tax, and all revenue from it goes to local governments.

The state decided to make the

Ohio Polio Toll Off Sharply in '56

COLUMBUS (AP)—There were fewer polio cases in Ohio last year than any time during the last 11 years, the state health department reports.

Dr. Frederick Wentworth, chief of the department's division of communicable diseases, said there were 623 cases and 12 deaths last year, compared with 1,296 cases and 37 deaths in 1955.

The Salk polio vaccine was highly effective among children 5-9 years of age that received shots, he said, although the vaccine does not account for all of the low rate. Dr. Wentworth said fewer persons over 20—those who did not receive the vaccine—contracted polio last year than previously.

The special session renewed the two-mill per $100 tax on bank capital and added a special one-mill levy to run three years to make up tax money lost by the state. The taxes do not apply to federal securities.

New Vote Machine Charter Granted

COLUMBUS (AP)—The first incorporation of 1957 was issued Wednesday by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to Coyle's Voting Machine Co. of Hamilton.

Martin A. Coyle took out the incorporation for a company to manufacture and sell a new type of voting machine.

Coyle is Butler County Republican chairman and a member of the election board.

He said the machine would register the choices of voters on a

"punchcard" that could be fed through a counting machine by one-third the cost of voting machines operated by levers.

Businessmen Hold Big Stake In Congress

All New Legislation
To Play Role in Nation's Economy

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (U)—Businessmen will have considerable stake in the new Congress starting work today — everything from atomic energy to tight money and from taxes to tariffs.

Plenty of fights are brewing already over such disputed issues as foreign aid and legislation on mergers — matters of first importance to many industries.

Some of the battles will be over matters left unsettled by the old Congress. Some will be heightened by the events this fall in the Middle East and Eastern Europe. In most of the perennial questions business looks for the final decisions to be along the lines laid out in the last Congress, since there is little change in makeup — a Republican administration working with a fairly conservative coalition in the Congress.

Hopes for tax cuts for business seem dim as Congress convenes. The 52 per cent tax on corporate income is due to drop to 47 per cent April 1. Increases in excise tax rates voted during the Korean War are also due to expire on that day. But in both cases the chances now seem to be all for another renewal.

Federal aid in harnessing the atom for industrial use is expected to be hotly debated. So is a measure that would make it necessary for parties to a proposed merger to notify the government of their intentions first.

Tight money policies will be assailed from several angles probably. Contractors can be expected to urge Congress to make easier credit available to home builders. Champions of small business say they will ask a return to cheaper money.

Even the basic issue — whether the Federal Reserve Board should be brought under control or guidance of the administration or Congress — may come up on Capitol Hill.

The debate on foreign aid will take a new turn, thanks to the Suez Canal blocking and the refusal of Western European countries for help, particularly in getting oil.

At the same time, a number of industries that feel they are being hurt or threatened by foreign competition will seek new or more protection.

That old standby, a curb on oil imports, is likely to be heard from again, in spite of the change brought about by the exporting of American oil to Western Europe.

Cleveland Phone Expansion Planned

CLEVELAND (U)—President John A. Greene of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. says his firm will spend a record $26 million this year for improving service in Cleveland.

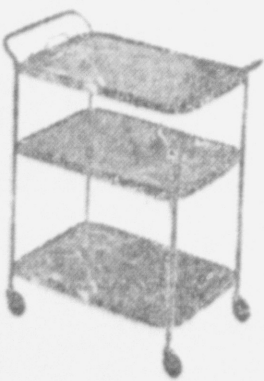

He said a large portion of the investment would be used for development of long distance dialing and other new programs. Included in the program will be six additions to existing buildings, more local dial equipment and more local exchange cable to provide additional subscriber lines.

Ohio CIO Plans Drafting Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—The 18th constitutional convention of the Ohio CIO Council probably will devote a major part of its attention to drafting legislative goals for 1957, a spokesman said.

The convention is scheduled for Cleveland, Jan. 10-12. Several key labor leaders will address the convention before 1,300 delegates.

Pen Guards No Longer on State Payroll

COLUMBUS (H)—One of two Ohio Penitentiary guards suspected of carrying tranquilizing pills into the prison has been removed, and the other failed to report back for duty after serving a 30-day suspension.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis filed removal orders against William E. Armentrout, $315-a-month guard, effective Dec. 31, according to papers received by the state civil service commission.

Alvis suspended Armentrout for 30 days Nov. 28. Then Armentrout was returned to the payroll for three days so the removal order could be filed.

Alvis said Armentrout was suspected of carrying tranquilizing pills into the prison for distribution among inmates. Armentrout and Guard Alton Roshon were arrested by Columbus police late in November. Roshon was suspended for 30 days and failed to return to work after the suspension ended, terminating his employment, the warden said.

Tranquilizing pills were found in a lunch bucket carried by Roshon, but none was found in Armentrout's possession. The warden said Armentrout carried a letter relating to the pills outside the prison.

Gambier Boy's Death Believed To Be Suicide

MOUNT VERNON (H)—Knox County authorities are investigating the strange death of a 17-year-old Gambier High School junior, but said all indications point to suicide.

The body of James Wittenmeyer, 17, was found Tuesday by three rabbit hunters. The body lay in a patch of brush, beside a tree, half a mile south of Gambier. The body was nude, and the youth's clothing was piled nearby.

Sheriff Paul Cochran said Wittenmeyer's hands were tied behind his back, and that a length of clothesline was tied around his neck. The rope apparently had broken. The other end was tied to a tree limb.

The sheriff said a rope had been knotted around one of the youth's hands, but that the other hand apparently had been slipped through a noose and was not tied fast.

Auto Crash Fatal To Gerald Howsmon

Gerald Howsmon, 25, New London, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Howsmon of Bloomingburg, was killed in an auto accident at Syracuse, N. Y., Friday, according to word received by his relatives.

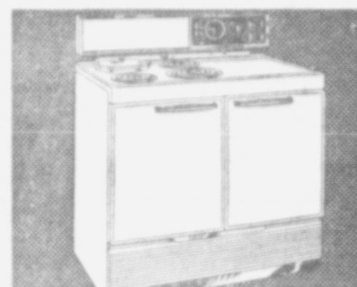

He had visited in Bloomingburg a number of times, and had been a member of the U. S. Air Force for six years, having served a year in Korea and had been stationed at Hancock Air Base, Syracuse, N. Y. the past two years.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Howsmon, and a brother, Paul, of New London. Military funeral services were held Wednesday at New London, followed by burial there.

Series of Cable-Cuttings Plague Portsmouth Again

PORTSMOUTH (A)—A series of cable-cutting incidents crippled police and state highway patrol communications and left two Portsmouth hospitals without telephone service Wednesday night, the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. said.

A company spokesman termed the cuttings "an apparently well thought-out plan to disrupt all service."

At 10:30, he said, a disruption was noted, but company crews were unable to locate the trouble.

At 10:35, a cut cable was discovered in front of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. building. It did not affect the AT&T lines.

A sliced trunk cable connecting Portsmouth and Lucasville to the north was discovered at 10:40. All telephone service between the two towns was disrupted.

At that point the spokesman said, Ohio Consolidated tried to reach the state highway patrol, but was unable to do so. The company then called the Scioto County sheriff's office. Officers there said they would investigate the matter, the spokesman said.

AT 10:45, THE company discovered the lines to the state highway patrol had been cut. Later, the spokesman said, the company was told the cable connecting the highway patrol office with its radio station had been out, making impossible any communication with the patrol's radio cars.

100-pair cable was found cut at 10:58, the spokesman said.

The company then called the Portsmouth police station where officers reported the radio cable had been cut, making it impossible to contact cruisers.

In addition to those, he said, cut cables blacked out telephone service at Mercy Hospital and the Smith-Everett Hospital.

The Portsmouth General Hospital was the only hospital remaining with service, he said.

The Communications Workers of America (CWA) have been on strike against Ohio Consolidated since July 15 when a one-year contract expired. The CWA has denied any responsibility for the violence.

The CWA will appear before the National Labor Relations Board Jan. 7 for a hearing on 26 charges of violence in the strike against Ohio Consolidated.

The next day, Jan. 8, CWA and Ohio Consolidated representatives are scheduled to meet with federal mediators in Columbus to resume contract negotiations.

Humphrey Bogart Is 'Feeling Great'

HOLLYWOOD (A)—Humphrey Bogart says his weight is stabilizing and he is "feeling great" after his 10-month fight against illness.

The actor underwent surgery on his esophagus last March. Some time thereafter he removed that a malignancy was removed in the operation. Last Nov. 26 he went back to the hospital for treatment to relieve pressure on a nerve, caused by scar tissue resulting from the previous surgery, his doctors said.

"I weigh 120 pounds so I'm holding steady, even though I'm about 35 pounds underweight," he said Wednesday. He weighed the same last March.

Sawmills now mostly use high-pressure jets of water to remove bark from trees.

Akron Money Expert Faces Big Lawsuit

CLEVELAND (A)—A Chicago commercial banking house has filed suit for $1,348,727 against Akron financier Sydney L. Albert for what the Chicago firm says are unpaid debts of two St. Louis companies in which Albert holds stock interests.

The lawsuit was filed Wednesday in federal court here by a Cleveland law firm acting for Walter E. Heller & Co. of Chicago. The Heller firm said it made loans totaling $3,600,000 in 1955 to the N. O. Nelson Co., identified as a manufacturer of plumbing supplies.

The banking house said it advanced the loans on condition that Albert stand behind them. In its court pleading the company said Albert had guaranteed repayment of the loans "unconditionally."

L. E. Oliphant, a lawyer for the Cleveland firm of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, said the Nelson Co. is involved in bankruptcy proceedings. He identified the second St. Louis firm involved as the Joplin Supply Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Nelson Co.

Albert, who is president of the Ballanca Corp. of New Castle, Del., could not be reached for comment.

Turkey's military aid from the United States in the 1955-56 fiscal period amounted to 200 million dollars.

4-H Club Activities

SIXTEEN CLUB

Jeff's Sixteen 4-H Club will give a program Friday for the Jeffersonville Junior High School Assembly, featuring a film on "The Crusade of the Christmas Seal". Mrs. Jan Stevens of the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Assn. is helping the girls of the group plan the program.

The club met during the holidays at the home of Mrs. John Ritenour and her daughter, Martha. After seeing the film on tuberculosis, the girls made donations to the Christmas Seal fund, and planned to send greeting cards periodically to patients who are in hospitals recovering from TB.

Ohio Industrial Chief Given Nod

CLEVELAND (A)—Margaret A. Mahoney, Ohio Director of Industrial Relations in the cabinet of outgoing Gov. Frank J. Lausche, is going to become a member of Cleveland's City - Council Civil Service Commission.

Her appointment was announced Wednesday by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze.

Miss Mahoney took over the Industrial Relations Department in 1953. Before that she had been a state representative, a state senator and head of the state Division of Securities.

Reunification Of Korea Due In U. N. Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (A)—The U. N. Assembly's Political Committee finally gets down to work today with a renewal of debate on the long-deadlocked question of Korean reunification.

The discussion was expected to start with the usual Soviet bloc bid to invite Communist North Korea and Red China to sit in. In the past such attempts have been beaten down.

The committee voted 58-8 Wednesday night to lead off its agenda with Korea, and to place disarmament second. The Soviet bloc tried unsuccessfully to give the arms question the top spot and place Korea at the end.

The United States did not dispute the prime importance of disarmament but indicated it wanted a week to prepare for debate.

The committee, whose work has been delayed nearly two months by Assembly meetings on the Hungarian and Middle East crises, has a packed agenda.

After Korea and disarmament it will take up the nationalist rebellion in Algeria, which some Asian-African nations wanted given top priority. After that comes the British-Greek dispute over Cyprus and Indonesia's claim to Dutch-held West New Guinea.

George K. Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, worked his way through college as a chauffeur.

Ohioans Get Start On World Cruise

PADUCAH, Ky. (A)—Two Portsmouth, Ohio, men slipped their homemade boat into a Paducah dock Wednesday, three weeks after they began a projected round-the-world sail that will take "maybe five years, and more likely seven."

Manning her were Jack O'Shea and Ed Brown. The boat, built by O'Shea, weighs 23 tons, is powered by a 25-horsepower outboard motor and has averaged about eight or nine miles an hour since the two men left Portsmouth Dec. 16.

When they get to New Orleans, they will install a larger engine and finish the interior before putting out to sea. British Honduras will be their first stop.

Matching Numbers Proves Difficult

DECATUR, Ill. (A)—Seven years ago Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Quinn, tired of being unable to remember their auto license number, applied for license 39568 — identical to their telephone number.

But someone already had it then, and every year since — except this year. Their car plates now bear the number 39568.

Then Wednesday the telephone company notified them that numbers starting with 395 are being assigned to pay telephones and the Quinns will be given a new number.

"We'll try for a new matching number again next year," Mrs. Quinn said.

Herbert Sworn In As High Judge

COLUMBUS (A)—Former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert took his oath Wednesday as a judge of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant administered the oath in the court room before 50 spectators.

Three other judges were on the bench with Judge Weygant for the ceremony. They were Kingsley A. Taft, James F. Bell and John M. Matthias.

Herbert, who served as Republican governor from 1947 to 1949, begins a six-year term on the court. He resigned as chairman of the Subversive Activities Control Board in Washington to take the post.

Governor Brown's Dad-in-Law Hurt

MEDINA (A)—Albert J. Helman of Lakewood, 76-year-old father-in-law of Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, was injured in an automobile accident Wednesday as he was driving to Columbus to see Brown's inauguration as governor.

The state highway patrol said Helman's car skidded across an icy intersection at Ohio 303 and a county road and hit a telephone pole. He was admitted to a hospital with a fractured leg.

Warm Trend Being Felt In Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southerly winds brought a warming trend to chilled Midwest areas today and relief was in prospect for the Northeast but icy air dipped into the Southeast.

Temperatures tumbled below freezing in sections of Georgia, the Carolinas and northern Florida as the cold air moved southeastward from the northern midlands.

Readings in the southeast and along the Gulf Coast were 5 to 15 degrees lower than Wednesday.

The biggest advances in temperatures were reported in the northern and central plains and the upper Mississippi Valley. They were from 10 to 20 degrees higher than sub-zero marks of 24 hours earlier, Minneapolis reported 26 above compared to Wednesday's low of 4 below zero. Above freezing marks were indicated during the day, the first in several days in the areas.

Arctic air continued over most of the area from the Great Lakes eastward to the Atlantic Coast although warming was forecast during the day. The unseasonable cold was expected to continue in most of the southeast another day.

Clear skies prevailed in most areas east of the Mississippi River and mostly cloudy in other parts of the country. Snow flurries fell along the northern shore of Lake Ontario and in the northern Appalachians.

Akron Money Expert Faces Big Lawsuit

CLEVELAND (H)—A Chicago commercial banking house has filed suit for $1,348,727 against Akron financier Sydney L. Albert for what the Chicago firm says are unpaid debts of two St. Louis companies in which Albert holds stock interests.

The lawsuit was filed Wednesday in federal court here by a Cleveland law firm acting for Walter E. Heller & Co. of Chicago. The Heller firm said it made loans totaling $3,600,000 in 1955 to the N. O. Nelson Co., identified as a manufacturer of plumbing supplies.

The banking house said it advanced the loans on condition that Albert stand behind them. In its court pleading the company said Albert had guaranteed repayment of the loans "unconditionally."

L. E. Oliphant, a lawyer for the Cleveland firm of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, said the Nelson Co. is involved in bankruptcy proceedings. He identified the second St. Louis firm involved as the Joplin Supply Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Nelson Co.

Albert, who is president of the Ballanca Corp. of New Castle, Del., could not be reached for comment.

Turkey's military aid from the United States in the 1955-56 fiscal period amounted to 200 million dollars.

4-H Club Activities

SIXTEEN CLUB

Jeff's Sixteen 4-H Club will give a program Friday for the Jeffersonville Junior High School Assembly, featuring a film on "The Crusade of the Christmas Seal". Mrs. Jan Stevens of the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Assn. is helping the girls of the group plan the program.

The club met during the holidays at the home of Mrs. John Ritenour and her daughter, Martha. After seeing the film on tuberculosis, the girls made donations to the Christmas Seal fund, and planned to send greeting cards periodically to patients who are in hospitals recovering from TB.

Ohio Industrial Chief Given Nod

CLEVELAND (H)—Margaret A. Mahoney, Ohio Director of Industrial Relations in the cabinet of outgoing Gov. Frank J. Lausche, is going to become a member of Cleveland's City - Council Civil Service Commission.

Her appointment was announced Wednesday by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze.

Miss Mahoney took over the Industrial Relations Department in 1953. Before that she had been a state representative, a state senator and head of the state Division of Securities.

Reunification Of Korea Due In U. N. Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (H)—The U. N. Assembly's Political Committee finally gets down to work today with a renewal of debate on the long-deadlocked question of Korean reunification.

The discussion was expected to start with the usual Soviet bloc bid to invite Communist North Korea and Red China to sit in. In the last such attempts have been beaten down.

The committee voted 58-8 Wednesday night to lead off its agenda with Korea, and to place disarmament second. The Soviet bloc tried unsuccessfully to give the arms question the top spot and place Korea at the end.

The United States did not dispute the prime importance of disarmament but indicated it wanted a week to prepare for debate.

The committee, whose work has been delayed nearly two months by Assembly meetings on the Hungarian and Middle East crises, has a packed agenda.

After Korea and disarmament it will take up the nationalist rebellion in Algeria, which some Asian-African nations wanted given top priority. After that comes the British-Greek dispute over Cyprus and Indonesia's claim to Dutch-held West New Guinea.

George K. Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, worked his way through college as a chauffeur.

Ohioans Get Start On World Cruise

PADUCAH, Ky. (H)—Two Portsmouth, Ohio, men slipped their homemade boat into a Paducah dock Wednesday, three weeks after they began a projected round-the-world sail that will take "maybe five years, and more likely seven."

Manning her were Jack O'Shea and Ed Brown. The boat, built by O'Shea, weighs 23 tons, is powered by a 25-horsepower outboard motor and has averaged about eight or nine miles an hour since the two men left Portsmouth Dec. 16.

When they get to New Orleans, they will install a larger engine and finish the interior before putting out to sea. British Honduras will be their first stop.

Matching Numbers Proves Difficult

DECATUR, Ill. (H)—Seven years ago Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Quinn, tired of being unable to remember their auto license number, applied for license 39568 — identical to their telephone number.

But someone already had it then, and every year since — except this year. Their car plates now bear the number 39568.

Then Wednesday the telephone company notified them that numbers starting with 395 are being assigned to pay telephones and the Quinns will be given a new number.

"We'll try for a new matching number again next year," Mrs. Quinn said.

Herbert Sworn In As High Judge

COLUMBUS (H)—Former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert took his oath Wednesday as a judge of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant administered the oath in the court room before 50 spectators.

Three other judges were on the bench with Judge Weygant for the ceremony. They were Kingsley A. Taft, James F. Bell and John M. Matthias.

Herbert, who served as Republican governor from 1947 to 1949, begins a six-year term on the court. He resigned as chairman of the Subversive Activities Control Board in Washington to take the post.

Governor Brown's Dad-in-Law Hurt

MEDINA (H)—Albert J. Helman of Lakewood, 76-year-old father-in-law of Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, was injured in an automobile accident Wednesday as he was driving to Columbus to see Brown's inauguration as governor.

The state highway patrol said Helman's car skidded across an icy intersection at Ohio 303 and a county road and hit a telephone pole. He was admitted to a hospital with a fractured leg.

Turnpike Aide OK'd

COLUMBUS (H)—Charles J. Chastang, a Columbus lawyer, was appointed by Gov. Frank J. Lausche Wednesday to the Ohio Turnpike Commission to fill an unexpired term ending June 30.

Feller Starts Drive

BOWLING GREEN (H)—Bob Feller, retired Cleveland Indian pitcher, made his first appearance as state chairman of the March of Dimes here Wednesday night in a kickoff meeting for the Wood County campaign.

Fullmer Says Sugar Can Get Return Bout

But New Middleweight Champion Warns He'll Be 'Twice as Mean'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Fullmer, freshly crowned middleweight champion, warned Sugar Ray Robinson today that he'll be "twice as mean" and gunning for a knockout, the next time he fights the dethroned king.

"I fought for nothing this time," said the unmarked, 25-year-old Mormon from West Jordan, Utah. "The next fight — if Robinson wants it — I'll be out there for the big money and to keep the title. I'll be twice as mean and I'll be out for a knockout. I wanted to go for the knox in this one but Marv (manager Marv Jensen) said I had the title wrapped up in the late rounds and not to open up."

Whether there will be a return fight—and the chances are strong that there will be one—will be decided this afternoon when the defeated 36-year-old Sugar Ray meets with his brain trust to decide his future.

The fading Robinson, making the second defense of his third reign as middleweight champion, lost on a unanimous decision in 15 rounds. He was floored for six in the seventh round, cut and soundly whaled to the body throughout. Ray was gashed over the left eye in the seventh and it was widened in the 14th.

Referee Ruby Goldstein, a target of heated criticism by Robinson's advisers, voted for Fullmer by 8 rounds to 5 with 2 even. Judge Frank Forbes had Gene ahead 10-5, while Judge Harold Barnes had it a shade closer, 9-6. The Associated Press card had Fullmer in front 9-6.

Fullmer, a thick-necked, brawny mine worker with a star for fighting, got off to a fast start in the first three rounds, swept the sixth, seventh, eighth and tenth rounds, and clinched the first boxing title for Utah with a rousing surge in the 13th and 14th rounds.

Robinson, hurt five times himself, shook Gene at least three times but couldn't follow up as he did in the past when he seemed to sense when he had an opponent in trouble. Maybe the spirit was willing, but the flesh was weak and the reflexes had slowed.

"I never did catch him solid," said Robinson. "I hit him several good shots to the body but never a real good one to the head."

Robinson who collected a fat purse of $139,050 to Fullmer's $20,802, has a contract calling for a return bout within 90 days at 30-30 split if he wants it. How did he feel about continuing in the ring?

"Boxing is my business," he replied, leaving no doubt that he wants another crack at Fullmer. "If he wants it, the fight is his," said both Fullmer and his manager, Marv Jensen.

Fullmer, a look-alike for baseball's Yogi Berra, was born to be a fighter. He was named after former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney and started boxing exhibitions when he was eight years old. A veteran of the Korean War, he says "I like to fight."

He showed Robinson, the roaring Gardner fans, and television viewers across the nation, plenty of fight.

The ex-GI pressed the action almost all the way, lunging in for one series of body smashes after another — body blasts that weakened the onetime glazier of the ring and dropped him on the apron of the ring in the seventh round for the sixth time. A right to the body and a followup left did it, said Gene, but Robinson claimed "it was a push and no knockdown."

Of the 176 members of the Hungarian team which participated in the 1956 Olympic games at Melbourne, 46 star athletes preferred to stay in Australia rather than return to their Soviet dominated native land.

Harvard Looking For Grid Coach

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Only an official announcement that Lloyd Jordan is fired appeared lacking today before Harvard hangs out a "help wanted" sign for the 22nd coach in its 82-year football history.

Jordan said athletic director Thomas D. Bolles told him that "poor teaching" was given by the Faculty Committee as reason for the dismissal vote.

"I asked him, 'you mean we didn't win enough games?' and he replied 'something like that'," the 56-year-old coach said.

His Harvard teams have had little success on the gridiron, winning 24 games, losing 31 and playing 3 ties. The 1956 team won two and lost six.

Science Correct In Fight Analysis

NEW YORK (AP)—Science was right.

The speed and power of the punching of Gene Fullmer and Sugar Ray Robinson were tested electronically Dec. 18-19. Last Friday Stephen D. Lavoie, president of the Lavoie Laboratories which conducted the tests, predicted without any "ifs" or "buts."

"Electronically, Gene Fullmer will be the new middleweight champion of the world."

The tests demonstrated that, overall, Fullmer punched with greater speed and with more force than Robinson. At the time Sugar Ray laughed it off with:

"Fullmer wins the machine, but how about the fight?"

Now he knows.

Maglie To Get 'Comeback' Prize

CHICAGO (AP)—Pitcher Sal Maglie of Brooklyn will be honored as baseball's top "comeback star" of 1956 at the 17th annual Diamond Dinner of the Chicago Baseball Writers Jan. 20.

Maglie, who compiled a 13-5 record, including a no-hitter, last season, will receive the William Wrigley Jr. memorial award. The Chicago Writers previously announced selection of Yankee manager Casey Stengel to receive the J. Louis Comiskey memorial award for long and meritorious service to baseball.

Philadelphia Says Russell 'Goal Tends'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eddie Gottlieb, owner of the Philadelphia Warriors, concedes that rookie Bill Russell can do some wonderful things on a basketball court, but says part of the success of the Boston Celtics center is due to illegal maneuvering.

Gottlieb's charge Wednesday was immediately termed "sour grapes" by Celtics coach Red Auerbach. And the leagues supervisor of officials said he didn't see anything wrong.

Gottlieb, whose defending champion Warriors trail the Celtics in the National Basketball Association's eastern division and have had a rough time with Russell in recent games, says towering Bill tries to play a one-man zone and that he "goal tends" at times.

The Warriors chief said he planned an official protest on at least one play in Tuesday's night game with the Celtics in Syracuse.

"Our Paul Arizin went underneath for a simple backboard lay-up and as the ball headed down toward the basket, Russell batted it away. If this isn't goal tending, I want somebody to tell me what it is."

Goal tending applies to the maneuver (outlawed in basketball) of deflecting a ball after it begins its downward curve on a shot into a basket.

Fullmer Says Sugar Can Get Return Bout

But New Middleweight Champion Warns He'll Be 'Twice as Mean'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Fullmer, freshly crowned middleweight champion, warned Sugar Ray Robinson today that he'll be "twice as mean" and gunning for a knockout the next time he fights the dethroned king.

"I fought for nothing this time," said the unmarked, 25-year-old Mormon from West Jordan, Utah. "The next fight — if Robinson wants it — I'll be out there for the big money — and to keep the title. I'll be twice as mean and I'll be out for a knockout. I wanted to go for the kayo in this one but Marv (manager Marv Jensen) said I had the title wrapped up in the late rounds and not to open up."

Whether there will be a return fight—and the chances are strong that there will be one—will be decided this afternoon when the defeated 36-year-old Sugar Man meets with his brain trust to decide his future.

The fading Robinson, making the second defense of his third reign as middleweight champion, lost on a unanimous decision in 15 rounds. He was floored for six in the seventh round, cut and soundly whaled to the body throughout. Ray was gashed over the left eye in the seventh and it was widened in the 14th.

Referee Ruby Goldstein, a target of heated criticism by Robinson's advisers, voted for Fullmer by 8 rounds to 5 with 2 even. Judge Frank Forbes had Gene ahead 10-5, while Judge Harold Barnes had it a shade closer, 9-6. The Associated Press card had Fullmer in front 9-6.

Fullmer, a thick-necked, brawny mine worker with a zest for fighting, got off to a fast start in the first three rounds, swept the sixth, seventh, eighth and tenth rounds, and clinched the first boxing title for Utah with a round surge in the 13th and 14th rounds.

Robinson, hurt five times himself, shook Gene at least three times but couldn't follow up as he did in the past when he seemed to sense when he had an opponent in trouble. Maybe the spirit was willing, but the flesh was weak and the reflexes have slowed.

"I never did catch him solid," said Robinson. "I hit him several good shots to the body but never a real good one to the head."

Robinson who collected a fat purse of $139,050 to Fullmer's $20,802, has a contract calling for a return bout within 90 days at 30-30 split if he wants it. How did he feel about continuing in the ring?

"Boxing is my business," he replied, leaving no doubt that he wants another crack at Fullmer. "If he wants it, the fight is his," said both Fullmer and his manager Marv Jensen.

Fullmer, a look alike for baseball's Yogi Berra, was born to be a fighter. He was named after former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney and started boxing exhibitions when he was eight years old. A veteran of the Korean War, he says "I like to fight."

He showed Robinson, the roaring Gardner fans, and television viewers across the nation, plenty of fight.

The ex-GI pressed the action almost all the way, lunging in for one series of body smashes after another — body blasts that weakened the onetime dazzler of the ring and dropped him on the apron of the ring in the seventh round for the six count. A right to the body and a followup left did it, said Gene, but Robinson claimed "it was a push and no knockdown."

Of the 176 members of the Hungarian team which participated in the 1956 Olympic games at Melbourne, 46 star athletes preferred to stay in Australia rather than return to their Soviet dominated native land.

Harvard Looking For Grid Coach

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Only an official announcement that Lloyd Jordan is fired appeared lacking today before Harvard hands out a "help wanted" sign for the 22nd coach in its 82-year football history.

Jordan said athletic director Thomas D. Bolles told him that "poor teaching was given by the Faculty Committee as reason for the dismissal vote."

"I asked him, 'you mean we didn't win enough games?' and he replied 'something like that' ", the 56-year-old coach said.

His Harvard teams have had little success on the gridiron, winning 24 games, losing 31 and playing 3 ties. The 1956 team won two and lost six.

Science Correct In Fight Analysis

NEW YORK (AP)—Science was right.

The speed and power of the punching of Gene Fullmer and Sugar Ray Robinson were tested electronically Dec. 18-19. Last Friday Stephen D. Lavoie, president of the Lavoie Laboratories which conducted the tests, predicted without any "ifs" or "buts."

"Electronically, Gene Fullmer will be the new middleweight champion of the world."

The tests demonstrated that, overall, Fullmer punched with greater speed and with more force than Robinson. At the time Sugar Ray laughed it off with:

"Fullmer wins the machine, but how about the fight?"

Now he knows.

Maglie To Get 'Comeback' Prize

CHICAGO (AP)—Pitcher Sal Maglie of Brooklyn will be honored as baseball's top "comeback star of 1956 at the 17th annual Diamond Dinner of the Chicago Baseball Writers Jan. 20.

Maglie, who compiled a 13-5 record, including a no-hitter, last season, will receive the William Wrigley Jr. memorial award. Now you can paint it in High Style a special grouping of today's most-wanted decorator colors

Dean & Barry makes it easy for you to get the custom paint colors you've always wanted for walls and woodwork. And without the need for a special mixing service, or the costly experience of hit and miss mixing yourself.

High Style brings you 140 wonderful new custom paint colors in three durable one-coat finishes—gloss, satin gloss, and washable flat. Mixing proportions are scientifically determined for you by Dean & Barry. And the 140 colors in each finish are a perfect match.

The net result is this: High Style gives you the special colors you want, the type of finish you want, the color matching you want—all in an easy and practical way. And High Style colors are as easy to use as they are beautiful to see whether applied over wallpaper, plaster-coated walls, or woodwork. High Style paint is something special—so make a special try to see us soon.

'Williamson Gang' Activities Bring Warning from C. of C.

Chamber of Commerce Manager William Stoughton issued a warning today about the activities of a clan of itinerant peddlers known as the "Williamson Gang".

Citing a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated, Stoughton pointed out that members of this clan have victimized thousands of persons in communities throughout the nation in rackets that include the sale of fake "imported" woolens, spray painting of houses and barns, and installation of lightning rods.

An article about the gang, entitled "The Terrible Williamsons" by John Kohler, recently appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

"THE MEMBERS of the clan are excellent actors, and are masters at faking dialects", Stoughton said. "In a typical 'sales pitch' a clan member will tell a local housewife that he is a salesman from Scotland, touring this country to display wool at fashion shows. He's now on his way home, and rather than take the wool with him, he would be glad to sell it for a small fraction of its value. In his 'Highland accent' he confesses that he is 'a wee bit short of cash.'"

"The sale of fake 'Irish lace' usually is entrusted to the female members of the gang, who dress shabbily and take along one or more shabbily dressed children. In a thick Irish brogue, the woman tells her tale of distress — her husband is sick, they have no food, etc.

"The woman states that, in her extremity, she is willing to part with pieces of 'Irish lace' made by me mither when she was just a lass in County Cork." The purchaser later discovers that the 'heirloom lace' is modern cotton of a very cheap grade.

"Imported woolen" fabrics sold by the Williamsons are usually cheap bolts made of acetate, rayon and nylon with little or no wool present."

"THE WILLIAMSON Gang has also branched out in the field of spray painting and installation of lightning rods. The 'paint' used by the Williamsons often turns out to be crank case oil mixed with green and red pigment. This 'paint' washes off with the first rain, and leaves the home owner with an expensive clean-up and repainting job to do.

"Lightning rods installed by the Williamson Gang are either worthless or actually constitute a danger rather than a safety device for the home."

In suggesting ways in which local residents may protect themselves against the notorious Williamson Gang, Stoughton recommended that vendors should be avoided who: (1) give unusual personal reasons for bargains; (2) have a low price because goods are ill; (3) offer "secret hurry-up deals"; and (4) sell mainly by sympathy appeals.

C. of C. Delegates Helping Arrange Legislative Meet

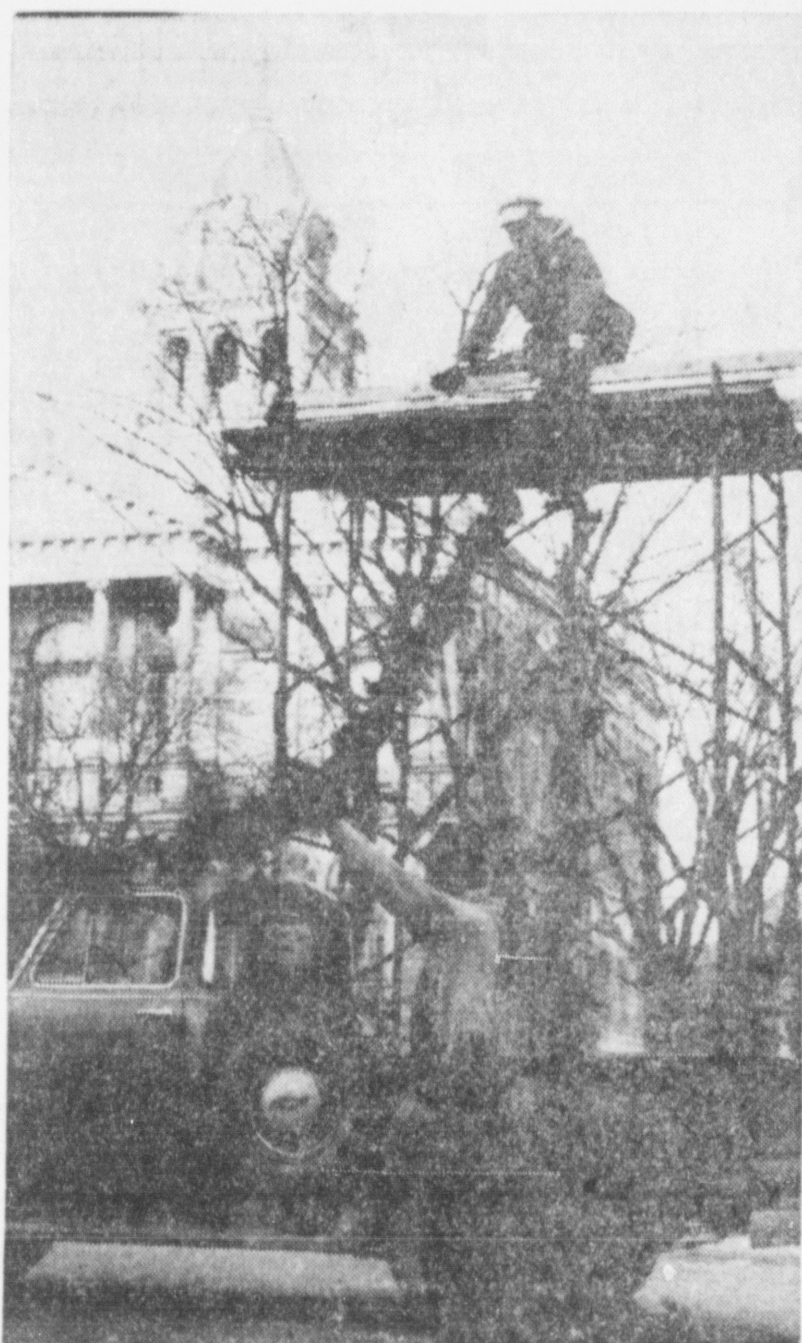

Two representatives of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce were in Cincinnati Thursday, assisting in drawing up plans for a national C. of C. legislative conference which will be held in that city Feb. 14.

Attending the planning session are William Stoughton, manager of the local Chamber, and Walter Morrow, chairman of the Area Development Committee and chairman of the Fayette County Highway Committee. They are guests of the U. S. Chamber at the Queen City Club.

John S. Coleman, national C. of C. president, and other national officers will speak at the February conference, one of 12 regional meetings in major cities designed to help businessmen understand the national issues affecting business which must be dealt with by the 85th Congress.

They will help businessmen get organized to present their views to legislative leaders.

RING OUT THE OLD . . . — With the arrival of the New Year, this strand of evergreen interwoven with colored lights comes down on Court St., between Main and Fayette Sts., to lie in storage until next December. Ervin Lightle (top) and Charlie Lauffer yesterday finished removing the holiday decorations which brightened the downtown streets during the Christmas season.

City, County School Classes Are Resumed

City schools opened Thursday after the long year-end holiday, and Superintendent W. A. Smith said attendance on the first school day of 1957 was "normal for this time of year."

Schools in the Miami Trace Local School District reopened yesterday, but no attendance figures were available.

For the 4,800 elementary and high school students throughout the county, examinations come the week of Jan. 14, and the second semester begins Jan. 25. The next holiday in both city and county schools will be Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. McCoy

Services for Mrs. Rebecca McCoy, who died Sunday night in Cowan, Tenn., were conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Gerster Funeral Home by Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of the McNair Memorial Church here and the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Norman Armbrust and Mrs. James McCluskey sang "The Last Mile of the Way" and "Going Down the Valley". Mrs. Marian Gage played the piano accompaniment. Pallbearers for the burial in the Good Hope Cemetery were Albert Howard, Lester Cook, Walter McCoy, Robert Groves, Robert Mason and Robert Elliott.

Mild December Was Wet, Too

Year's Rainfall
.63 above Normal

Last month was one of the warmest Decembers on record here, with a mean or average temperature of 40.48 degrees, or 8.28 degrees above the normal of 32.20.

The month also came up with precipitation above normal, the total being 3.72 inches compared with the normal 3.12 inches.

Total rainfall during the entire year was .63 of an inch above normal. Total was 41.63 inches and normal is listed at 41 inches.

During December the lowest point reached by the mercury was 21 degrees on Dec. 30 and the highest 69 degrees Dec. 6.

Rainfall in both October and November was below normal, but previous above-normal rainfall, particularly during the spring months, was sufficient to make up for the later shortage.

As a result of the above-average December rainfall, streams in the county are flowing fairly well, and the water table is much improved since early in the fall.

Services Wednesday For Mrs. Sexton

Services for Mrs. Sarah Catherine Sexton, 90, were held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Parrett Funeral Home with the Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating. Mrs. Sexton, the widow of Gilbert Sexton, died Monday in her home, 123 W. Oak St.

Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson sang "In the Garden" and "Good Night and Good Morning", with Mrs. Lawrence Black at the piano. Burial was in Pleasant Hill Cemetery, Leesburg, with Gilbert and Homer Bireley, Bernard Self, Marion Cokerill and Edward and Marion Sexton as pallbearers.
